Four Hundred Thousand Idle Due To Strikes

Thousands More Kept From Jobs In New York Due To Elevator Strike

WESTERN PENNA. SHARES TIEUPS

(By International News Service)

More than 400,000 persons were idle today because of strikes in America's post-war industrial reconversion, not including many thousands from among the 1,600,000 office workers kept from work in New York's strike of elevator operators.

The scene of the conciliation conference designed to avert a possible coast-to-coast strike of 250,000 oil refinery workers and to get the 35,000 now out back on their jobs shifted from Chicago to Washington.

Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach ordered the hearing shifted after a three-day session in Chicago had resulted in a seemingly hopeless deadlock over the demand of the Oil Workers International Union, CIO, for a 30 per cent wage increase and settlement on a national basis.

A concession in the strike of elevator operators and maintenance men in New York was obtained when the Building Service Employes Union local agreed not to extend the walkout pending further negotiations at 2 p. m. today in the office of Arthur S. Meyer of the New York State Mediation board.

The number of buildings affected dropped to 1,736 due to the signing of union contracts by some 600 owners.

Will Bring Million And Half Troops Back From Pacific In Seven Months

(BULLETIN)

TOKYO, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today that shipping space will be available to return 1,490,000 American troops to the United States from Pacific bases in the next seven months.

Days of departure of three divisions, all in the Philippines, were set: 31st Division, Oct. 31; 38th Division, Nov. 1; 37th Division, Nov. 15.

The 43rd Division is now being taken aboard ships at Yokahama for return home.

120,000 In October

It was officially estimated that 120,000 troops will be returned home in October; 150,000 in November; 185,000 in December; 270,000 in January; 240,000 in February; 245,000 in March, and 280,000 in April.

It was disclosed that disarmed Japanese forces in Korea are being moved back to Japan at the rate of 4,000 a day.

Japanese troops in other Pacific areas will have to continue to "sweat it out" for an indefinite period, however. MacArthur having turned down a request that Japan be permitted to use 260,000 tons of her own shipping to return them. He ruled that the shipping is more urgently needed to bring food supplies to the Japs.

A new order issued today forbids Japanese cargo ships to carry on conversations with passenger vessels.

MacArthur also rejected a Japanese request that their civil and military officials be permitted to visit occupied areas outside the homeland other than Korea and banned visits of officials from such areas to the homeland.

Conciliators In Oil Strike Move To Washington

Efforts To End Oil Industry Strike To Be Renewed Saturday Morning

SHIFT IS MADE FROM CHICAGO

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28—(INS)—The oil strike conciliation conference went through a 24-hour "cooling off" period today while the stage was shifted to Washington for a new federal appeal to labor and management to come to terms.

Will Convene Saturday

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach personally will reconvene the parley at 10 a. m. EWT, tomorrow in an all-out effort to achieve a weekend settlement of the dispute. A Sunday session is probable.

Approximately 35,000 members of the CIO oil workers union already are on strike and a two-week walkout threatened to spread to 250,000 workers in the industry.

Committee May Hear MacArthur While In Pacific

Pearl Harbor Probers May Take Testimony Of General While On Trip

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Members of the Pearl Harbor investigating committee said today they may take testimony of Gen. MacArthur when the house-senate group makes its flying inspection trip to the Pacific.

One member of the 10-man committee, Rep. Gearhart (R) Calif. said he favored the congressional investigators going wherever they can obtain the "true facts" about the Jap sneak attack—"Pearl Harbor, Manila, Tokyo—and London too."

Several committeemen conceded that since Gen. MacArthur has no apparent plans to return to this country at an early date, he might be called as a witness when the committee reaches the Pacific.

To Visit Pearl Harbor

Senate Majority Leader Barkley, chairman, announced this week that definite plans were being made to visit Pearl Harbor. The possibility of proceeding to Manila, or beyond, has been discussed informally but with no decision.

The Pacific trip is scheduled, Barkley said, to acquire testimony of people who otherwise would have to travel to the United States, and to "familiarize" the members with the scene of the Dec. 7, 1941 assault.

Gearhart declined to amplify this inclusion of London among places where the committee might profitably seek evidence. He said he was for "pursuing the truth, wherever it may be."

Elevator Strike Not Extended

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Hope for an early settlement of New York's cotsly elevator strike rose today as the strikers agreed not to extend the walkout pending further negotiations with the building owners.

The meeting was set for 2 p. m. today in the office of Chairman Arthur S. Meyer of the state mediation board.

Chief purpose of today's meeting will be agreement of an arbitration formula. Should the meeting be successful, the strike might possibly end by tomorrow.

Today's meeting was arranged at a joint conference yesterday with Regional WLB Chairman Walter

Congress Will Push Plans For Tax Reduction

Framing Of Tax Reduction Bill Will Be Speeded It Is Indicated

JOBLESS PAY BILL IS NOT REVIVED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(INS)—The House Ways and Means committee went ahead today with plans to draft the promised tax reduction bill, unmindful of President Truman's personal plea for immediate reconsideration of his shelved unemployment insurance proposal.

The general attitude on Capitol Hill following the President's summoning of Democratic members of the committee to the White House was that his "honeymoon" with Congress has ended.

There was no indication from committee members that the jobless pay measure would be recalled for reconsideration until the tax bill has been disposed of, and no guarantee that it would be taken up even at that time.

Go Ahead On Tax Program

Democratic committee members decided to go ahead with the tax program at a secret meeting following their talk with the President. Mr. Truman is reliably reported to have pressed for immediate reconsideration of the unemployment bill.

This bill, passed in greatly modified form by the Senate, was the vehicle embracing Mr. Truman's original proposal that unemployment insurance should be expanded to provide maximum payments of $25 a week for 26 weeks to unemployed workers.

The President had classified the measure as number one on his list of "must reconversion legislation."

Takes Exception To Charge Made By President

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28—(INS)—Sen. Donnell (R) Mo., today took caustic exception to President Truman's charge that the Senate had "let him down" by failing to pass an unemployment bill providing $25 weekly benefits for jobless workers.

Donnell told the Senate that the White House statement infers that the "Senate is under some obligation to the President . . . and that the Senate failed to perform its duty."

"There is no basis for the President to be of the opinion that merely because the Senate fails to approve legislation the Senate has ommitted a duty," he declared.

Not Subordinate

The Senate, Donnell said, should "pause to remember now and for all future time that it is not a body subordinate to the President of the United States or subject to duty to follow his desires irrespective of its duty."

"We have had many examples of executive domination over Congress,"

Halseys Ships May Attempt To Break Record

(BULLETIN)

ABOARD THE USS IOWA EN ROUTE TO PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 28—(INS)—Indications were today that Adm. William F. Halsey might direct one of the mighty units of his homecoming Third Fleet to attempt to break the 30-hour Navy surface record between Pearl Harbor and San Francisco.

Officers aboard the USS Iowa as she plowed through the Pacific toward Pearl Harbor, 2,600 miles to the southeast, believed that the South Dakota and other units are capable of smashing the 30-hour record held by the carrier Lexington.

Fast Unit Assigned

It was pointed out that if the warships leave Pearl Harbor October 9 under the present schedule they might possibly reach San Francisco as early as October 12.

A late directive from Halsey, who flew to Pearl Harbor ahead of his fleet, assigned a fast unit of the fleet to head for San Francisco after a brief stopover at Pearl Harbor.

At the same time Halsey directed

SHANGHAI, Sept. 28—The grim eyewitness story of how three Doolittle flyers were put to death by the Japanese was on record today following discovery of the boxed ashes of the heroic airmen in a shelf at a Shanghai funeral parlor.

A Japanese military guard, who saw the Americans die after they had delivered the first aerial blow against Tokyo, told how the airmen were forced to kneel on straw mats, how their hands were tied to the arms of wooden crosses in crucifix fashion, how their lives were snuffed out by a six-man firing squad.

Gen. Patton To Make Report On Nazi Removals

(BULLETIN)

MUNICH, Sept. 28—(INS)—Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commander of the U. S. Third Army, left his headquarters at Bad Tolz for Frankfurt today to reply to allegations that he had been slow to uproot Nazis still in important positions in Bavaria.

At Frankfurt he will answer a summons by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower who has called for an accounting of the de-nazification of territory occupied by the Third Army.

Gen. Patton took along with him documents to show that at least 50,000 Nazis had been ousted from official posts in Bavaria.

Not Likely To Be Removed

Although it was anticipated that Gen. Eisenhower would take the colorful Third Army chief to task for recent inadvertent remarks to the effect that being a Nazi was little different from being a member of a political party in the United States, it was believed there was little likelihood that Gen. Patton would be removed.

Gen. Patton already has declared he has faithfully executed directives from Gen. Eisenhower on de-nazification of his area. He left the implication that any alleged laxity in throwing Nazis out of office in Bavaria was not his responsibility. This stand was taken despite his opinion that a gradual purge is preferable to a wholesale sweep of officials since this might throw all Bavaria into chaos.

Limited "Go Ahead" For Jap Industry Is Given By Gen. MacArthur

STOCK EXCHANGE BAN NOT RELAXED

By JOHN HENRY
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Sept. 28.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur ordered the arrest today of 34 more accused Jap war criminals and at the same time gave a limited "go ahead" to Jap industry.

The newly-designated war criminals were Japanese officers and men accused of planning and executing the fiendish fire massacre of possibly 100 Allied war prisoners at Palawan Island in the Philippines, Dec. 14, 1944.

Lifts Some Bans

MacArthur, turning his attention to internal problems in Japan, issued orders lifting the ban on certain peacetime production amid growing indications of a political and economic awakening by the Nipponese.

Labor unions were stirring into life and a socialist party appeared on the scene as the industrial reconversion program got a start.

MacArthur's "businessman" staff chief, Col. R. C. Kramer, meanwhile, was devoting his attention to the Jap financial-industrial family combines with the aim of getting a complete picture of the present state of Japanese industry. Kramer conferred with four leaders of the House of Mitsui as his opening move in an investigation, which probably will lead to enlarging the present limited program for Jap industry.

Specifications Given

The supreme commander set forth specifications for production on textiles, excepting silk products, aluminum, steel, electric wire, leather and motor trucks.

Gen. MacArthur Orders Men Suspected In Fire Massacre Of Yanks To Be Seized

TOKYO, Sept. 28—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur ordered the arrest today of 34 Japanese officers and men suspected of participating in the fire massacre of Allied war prisoners at Palawan Island in the Philippines December 14, 1944.

Japanese guards on Palawan were accused of herding more than 100 war prisoners into a gasoline-saturated air raid shelter which they set afire with torches.

The Japs guarded escape routes for the trapped prisoners and machine-gunned and bayoneted most of those who attempted to get away.

A few Americans escaped and gave complete reports of the incident to Allied authorities.

Yule Mail For Men In Service Is Much Lighter

Good Volume Is Being Received At Local Post Office, However, Postmaster Hanna Says

Yule mail to men in the service is far below the rush experienced last year, but a fairly good volume is being received, Postmaster William R. Hanna stated today.

With a great number of men having already been discharged, and many others expected home by Christmas, the volume mailed this year will not come near last year's staggering load, the postmaster believes.

However, those who do have relatives or friends in service to whom they expect to send a Christmas box are warned to do it now, as the Yule mailing period for men overseas will end on October 15.

People are warned against sending food, candy, etc., to men in the Pacific area, as the experience of last year proved that this type of gift cannot stand the heat of the Pacific area.

Practical gifts are urged instead of things that are apt to be broken, and a box twice as strong as you used last year, unless you sent one made from wood or metal, is advocated.

Round-the-World Air Flight To Start Today

By INEZ ROBB
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—A group of guinea pigs takes off from the nation's capital at 5 p. m. EWT today on the air transport command's first regularly scheduled round-the-world passenger flights.

One will be this lightly-seasoned traveler.

We're going to "see" the world in six and a quarter days, but it will be just a bird's eye view.

I am not going for a ride. I'm being taken for one.

Already up in the air for the past three days, I am informed that three ATC observers, including a colonel in the medical corps, will go on the flight to "study passenger handling" for future reference.

Will Study Fatigue

The medic will study the effects of fatigue on both the body and the brain and he frankly admits that perhaps man or beast should not be permitted to circumnavigate the globe in one gulp as we will in a series of giant C-54 (Douglas Skymaster) planes. Mebbe this doesn't include women.

It will be a pleasure trip, with the pleasure removed. We will stop only long enough to refuel or change planes so don't ask me what we saw.

To make matters more enjoyable before takeoff time we will receive our final briefing which consists of a movie showing us what to do if the plane is forced down at sea.

Plans Are Made

We news correspondents have already made up our minds what we are going to do. My two masculine confederates, Paul Miller of Associated Press and Frederick Othman of United Press, are going to inflate the life raft and catch fish, while I do the cooking.

The history making trip will be started in a C-54 which will be christened "The Globester" today

Veiled Threat Of Strike Comes From Lewis Now

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(INS)—A veiled strike threat came today from the powerful United Mine Workers Union as John L. Lewis called for a national soft coal negotiating conference Oct. 1 to settle the issue of unionization of mine foremen.

In a telegram to Ezra Van Horn of Cleveland, chairman of the National Bituminous Coal Operators negotiating committee, Lewis requested the mine owners to meet with union representatives in Washington next Monday afternoon to decide the foremen's issue.

"Failure on the part of you and your associates to accept this invitation will leave the United Mine Workers of America free to take such independent action as may be required," Lewis declared.

36,000 Idle

Some 36,000 miners already are idle in an estimated 79 Pennsylvania and West Virginia coal pits as result of strikes called by mine foremen who are affiliated with district 50 of the UMW and are seeking bargaining rights.

Lewis referred to the "present disturbed and chaotic conditions" in certain areas of the coal industry and asserted that the disturbance has no relation to wages, hours or working conditions of the mine workers.

"It is a major convulsion which stems from the refusal of you and your associates to permit the right of union membership and collective bargaining to be granted to the 50,000 foremen, supervisors and technicians of various classifications in the mining industry," he told Van Horn.

Lewis accused the operators of denying mine foremen the right of union organization despite the national labor relations act. He said the UMW repeatedly has warned "that your policy of suppression and harassment, and ofttimes persecution of these men would inevitably result in the present turbulence of the industry."

ELEVATOR STRIKE NOT EXTENDED

Gellhorn. President David Sullivan of local 32-B, Building Service Employes' International Union, immediately ordered that no more buildings be struck.

The number of buildings affected, most of them in the teeming midtown Manhattan district, meanwhile fell to 1,736 as some 300 more owners signed union contracts. The union claimed 600 owners have signed to date.

FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND IDLE DUE TO STRIKES

in the Pittsburgh area as 450 produce workers, members of the AFL Commission House Drivers and Produce Workers Union, walked off their jobs demanding elimination of a "no strike, no lockout" clause in a contract under negotiation.

The strike of the produce yard workers tied up 225 railroad cars containing $400,000 worth of perishable commodities and additional thousands of dollars in food was ready to rot in warehouses. Stores immediately began to feel the pinch as only potatoes and onions were in stock in quantity.

A 22-day walkout at the Jeannette plant of the Pennsylvania Rubber company, which grew out of dismissal of a worker, ended when company representatives told union officials they would not arbitrate until the men returned to work. A company spokesman said 2000 men voted to get back on their jobs. A strike which kept 260 Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation men idle ended when 18 Aliquippa works tin mill employes voted to return to work.

40,000 Miners Idle

Meantime, an NLRB hearing on the right of supervisory employes to unionize opened in Pittsburgh as a strike of bosses in four Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation captive mines made nearly 40,000 Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia miners idle in sympathy strikes.

A strike of 10,000 "white collar" employes of the Westinghouse Electric corporation moved toward its fourth week with 39,500 idle in 14 plants and offices. Thomas J. Fitzpatrick, national chairman of the CIO-United Electricians conference board, representing those made idle by the strike, asked government intervention.

Another effort was to be made at a mass meeting tonight in Detroit, Mich., to end the protracted strike of 4,500 in the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co. which caused the lay-off of 50,000 Ford Motor company workers.

Strike votes still were on the program for late next month among General Motors and Chrysler employes, and probably later for Ford employes, but there remained a chance that negotiations in the meantime might forestall walkouts.

The five-day strike of 60,000 AFL loggers and sawmill workers in five states of the Pacific Northwest began to develop a shortage in other industries.

Wood and sawdust piles at fuel dealers' yards were disappearing and shipping problems of fish dealers grew as box factories were closing down throughout the area.

An unauthorized strike of 28,000 textile dyers at Paterson, N. J., threatened to throw half a million workers in allied industries out of work.

More than 1,800 carpenters at the Clinton Engineering Works and 500 persons employed at other plants in Oak Ridge, Tenn., "went fishing." Oak Ridge was the site for production of the atomic bomb. The strikers quit in protest against the refusal of the wage adjustment board in Washington to grant a 10-cent an hour increase.

Second Degree Murder Verdict Against Youth

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 28.—(INS)—A second degree murder verdict was returned today at Wilkes-Barre by the jury which weighed the evidence against Jeddie Howells, 15-year-old schoolboy accused of slaying Willard Frey, 44, during an argument on the outskirts of the city.

The verdict, handed to Judge John A. Aponick, carries a 10 to 20-year sentence in prison.

The jury resumed its deliberations this morning after spending the night under guard in a local hotel.

The trial was highlighted by the youth's statement that he had shot and killed Frey after the man had "made improper proposals".

The prosecution has asked for a first degree verdict but District Attorney Leon Schwartz emphasized that he did not seek the death penalty.

"I do not believe the circumstances are such that I could ask you to send this boy to the electric chair," he told the jurors in his summation.

Howells' accusation of Frey was a surprise to the prosecution but Schwartz said "a man cannot be a moral degenerate for 44 years and not have anyone know about it."

Frey was slain on a lonely road near Kellystone quarry on the outskirts of Wilkes-Barre seven weeks ago.

The commonwealth contended that Howells shot Frey after the former leather store proprietor warned the youth about shooting birds. Three .22 calibre slugs were taken from Frey's body. They matched the rifle Howells was using at the time of the argument, the prosecution said.

Charge Argentina Leaders Seek To Rule By Terrorism

MONTEVIDEO, Sept. 28.—(INS)—The Uruguayan press today characterized the purge of democratic elements in Argentina as the attempt of a feeble regime to retain its power through terrorism.

The newspaper El Plata said editorially that only through strangulation of the press and arrests of vengeance can the "police regime of President Gen. Edelmiro Farrell and Vice-President Col. Juan Peron retain its grip on Argentina.

Meanwhile, Uruguayan police, anticipating an influx of political refugees from across the River Plate, maintained strict watch along the Uruguayan coast.

And in uneasy Argentina, university students and their professors voted an indefinite protest strike at the wave of arrests resulting from an abortive coup to overthrow the Farrell government spread throughout the country.

AROUND CITY HALL

Some time ago Mayor John F. Haven sent to C. J. Potter deputy administrator, Solid Fuels Administration, Washington, in which council in brief said that coal shipmens to Europe should not be made when America needed coal. In a reply Mr. Potter said that the coal to be shipped would be predominantly eastern strip mine coal, or coal in areas where the supply was equal to or exceeded demands. In reply to this letter, Mayor Haven told Mr. Potter he still could not comprehend the shipping of coal where there was an apparent shortage, as shown by general complaints and voiced the opinion that he would not desire to see another situation in America as that which existed last winter. In his second reply to Mayor Haven, Mr. Potter stated that the Solid Fuels Administration had removed all restrictions from retail deliveries of domestic sizes of eastern mined hard and soft coals. The mayor stated today that insofar as he knows the 80 per cent amount used during last winter would be available this winter.

When council appropriated $250 recently for an Armistice day celebration it was for the use of all veterans organizations and not only for the VFW as stated recently.

Start Tax Hearings

Rep. Doughton (D) N. C., announced that the Ways and Means committee, of which he is chairman, would hear Treasury Secretary Vinson as the first witness at closed-door tax hearings Monday.

Doughton said that the committee plans for swift action on a moderate tax reduction bill.

"I do not believe any drastic tax reduction is possible at this time," he said.

While Doughton gave no estimate of the contemplated reductions, committee members generally have been thinking of tax revisions which would cut federal revenues from individuals and corporations by five to six billion dollars.

The reduction would be effective January 1, if Congress completes its work on the measure by November 1, in order to give the Internal Revenue bureau time to print and distribute necessary tax forms and instructions.

While Jap industry was allowed to get under way, the supreme commander failed to relax a previously issued ban against the re-opening of the Jap stock exchange.

The political phase of the awakening found Jap socialist leaders meeting today to lay down plans for the formation of a new leftist party.

LEARN DETAILS OF JAP EXECUTIONC OF DOOLITTLE FLYERS

tured at Kinagwan prison furnished the information that led to Bailey's discovery.

The containers, five inches wide and six inches high, were labeled with false names and numbered 170, 104 and 103. The labels did not contain the causes of death, nor were the names of next of kin listed.

Conceal Act

The Jap document in Bailey's possession, however, showed the true names of the remains and it was all too obvious that the false names had been placed on the boxes to conceal the monstrous act of the Japanese.

Bailey also disclosed that the ashes of Second Lieut. Robert J. Meder, another Doolittle flyer, had been located at Nanking and were now enroute to Shanghai. Meder died of malnutrition, dysentery and beri-beri. The ashes of all four airmen will be turned over to the graves registration officer.

Bailey said still another Japanese official told him the executions were carried out on orders from general staff headquarters in Tokyo.

The military guard, whose name is being withheld, said the executed airmen were taken in automobiles from the prison camp in mid-morning to a cemetery two miles from the prison. The cemetery was a desolate, weed-grown field where the three crosses stood.

A Japanese interpreter spoke briefly to the pilots, telling them what was coming. From a squad of seven nearby soldiers, two riflemen were assigned to each pilot. They forced the American to kneel on mats before the low crosses, tied them to the cross-bars and then shot each man in the head. The order to fire was given by the seventh man of the squad, presumably a non-commissioned officer.

In this connection it was pointed out that the greater number of discharges might be routed through Seattle and San Pedro since rail facilities from these ports are less crowded than those from San Francisco.

CONCILIATORS IN OIL STRIKE MOVE TO WASHINGTON

labor czar, indicated clearly that there are two important factors involved in the oil crisis.

Factors Involved

1. The imperative necessity of restoring production of gasoline and oil, already rationed in some midwest areas. The military forces have said they cannot continue operating at peak efficiency beyond next week if the strikes are prolonged.

2. A desire by the government to settle this dispute by the peacetime method of conciliation and collective bargaining, thereby setting a pattern for adjusting other major labor disputes—steel, autos, etc. The WLB which imposed mandatory settlements of war time disputes is in the process of liquidation.

Called To Washington

The labor secretary called the industry and union officials to Washington after three days of fruitless negotiation in Chicago before a three-man conciliation panel, headed by Judge William L. Knous, of the Colorado supreme court. Senwellenbach said he hoped the government would not have to resort to seizure of refineries, adding that he knew of no such plans at the moment.

He said he called the conferees to the capital in an attempt to remove a major obstacle imposed thus far by industry representatives—namely, their objection to industry-wide negotiation.

AMERICAN KILLED DURING OUTBREAK

the Southeast Asia commander called for a personal report from Lieut. Gen. Douglas D. Gracey, British commander in the seething Indo-Chinese capital.

Mountbatten suggested following the conference that Allied vehicles be painted and draped with national flags to avoid further mistakes as apparently caused Dewey's death and the wounding of Capt. Joseph Coolidge, of New Hampshire.

The 29-year-old Dewey, son of former Congressman Charles Dewey of Illinois, died in a hail of machine gun fire as he stepped from his jeep outside the OSS headquarters building two days ago.

The jeep in which Dewey was riding with U. S. Maj. Herbert Bluechel was marked USA-OSS, but the American flag was unfurled in conformity with British orders which permitted only general officer's cars to fly national flags.

As Dewey fell, Bluechel dashed into the building where with other Americans, include two newsmen, he withstood assaults by enraged Annamites for several hours. Six Japanese helped defend the building. At least half a dozen Annamites were killed.

Earlier in the day a Japanese colonel was killed by a stray shot near the airport outside Saigon.

Future Control Of Japan

When General of the Army Douglas MacArthur told the world that only 200,000 American troops would be required to control Japan after six months' occupation, he based his judgment upon several factors—factors determined only by on-the-spot analysis of the Jap economy.

Time was when it was regarded as almost certain that 2,000,000 troops or more would be required to demilitarize Nippon over a period of five years. The thought was that Japan would have to be treated much as Germany is treated, her war industries eliminated and her other industries supervised. That would have been costly in time and in money.

Once Americans were on the ground it was readily determined that Japan has few of the raw materials necessary for making war. Her coal is low-grade, unsuitable for making steel. She must import iron, rubber, cotton, oil and minerals. Without such raw materials or the merchant fleet to import them, Japan cannot wage war.

So external control was decided upon. By denying Japan of coal, steel and materials needed for war and by permitting her no more shipping than absolutely necessary for her civilian economy, it is believed that a skeleton occupational force can control interior Japan. In fact, occupation might end within two years under such a plan.

In the meantime, the Japanese are to become masters of their own destiny at home. Free elections will decide Japan's government. There will be religious freedom. Speech and press will be free with censorship enforced only to "prevent publication which disturbs the public tranquility."

Peaceful elements will be encouraged and Prince Fumimaro Konoye, long a leader of the anti-war group, is proposed as a leader.

War industries will be abolished and production shifted to essentials. Unemployed will be encouraged to take up farming and fishing to prevent a national famine.

Once Japan's return to decency is established, she will be permitted limited foreign trade. All in all, she promises to fare better than her Pearl Harbor and subsequent acts would entitle.

Fatalities Among Children

In spite of restricted wartime driving, 2,050 school-age children were killed in traffic accidents in 1944, the National Safety Council reported today.

Accidents of all types took a toll of 6,550 lives among children 5 to 14 years of age last year, representing a 1 per cent drop from the death total of school children of that age group in 1943.

These facts were revealed today by the council in its statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts."

Injuries of school-age children by motor vehicles totalled 110,000—13 per cent of all motor vehicle injuries in the country.

Twenty-three per cent of all accidents, fatal and non-fatal, to school children during school months occurred in the home, and another 28 per cent in the school buildings. The school grounds were the scene of 18 per cent of the accidents, another 7 per cent occurred going to and from school, and 29 per cent occurred in public places.

Burns were the principal cause of home accident deaths for the 5-14 age group, the council yearbook points out, with firearms ranking second.

Fire Prevention Must Be Personal

Fire Prevention Week, October 7 to 13, should command greater public interest this year than ever before. Never in history was so much property destroyed by fire in 365 days, as during the past 12 months.

In our own country, which has not been subjected to the ravages of war, there are 1,000 home fires every day. Once every 50 minutes someone is burned to death—a large percentage of them children left in homes which contain unnecessary fire hazards. Eight hundred million matches are used daily, each one capable of starting a fire in a home or factory. Two hundred and fifty billion cigarettes are smoked each year—each is a fire hazard which can ignite waste paper, bed clothes, material placed carelessly on shelves, clothing, and a thousand-and-one other articles.

No one can prevent most of such fire losses except the home owner, the lighter of matches, the smoker, and each and every individual old enough to think. Annual fire losses in the United States, which could largely be prevented, are greater than those caused by the bombings of London during the first years of the war. They are not as spectacular as the London losses because they are scattered all over the country.

Ten thousand deaths from fire, distributed over 48 states, and tens of thousands of homes and factories destroyed, do not make headlines like the bombing of a city, but the permanence of death and fire loss for those involved, is just as real.

Fire Prevention Week, from October 7 to 13, is something all should observe—not for that week alone but for every day in the year.

Government Should Take Its Medicine

The Department of Justice, the SEC, the Federal Power commission, the Interstate Commerce commission, and numerous other Federal or state agencies, are constantly on the alert to protect the public from shortcomings in private enterprise.

For example, the railroads cannot build a mile of line without proving to the Interstate Commerce commission that it is necessary for public purposes. Corporations cannot sell a dollar's worth of stock until the SEC or state corporation departments go through their plans with a fine-tooth comb. Electric companies cannot make a move without public permission from numerous Federal and state boards and bureaus.

But compare such practices which government applies to private enterprise for the protection of the public, to the total lack of governmental interest in protecting the taxpayer from political schemes to spend tax funds.

For example, is there any reason to suppose that proposals for government-owned business projects promoted by politicians who spend the people's money, are any less apt to need careful supervision and checking than are the projects of private capital? As a matter of fact, the taxpayer has probably suffered more loss from misleading statements to promote government in business which is exempt from the restrictions of taxation placed on private business, than he has from any chicanery in privately financed enterprise.

With government demanding and spending as much of the people's money as it is today, it is imperative that proposed political business projects be able to meet the requirements of laws applying to private enterprise. There should be no objection by government to taking the same medicine it dishes out.—Muncie, Ind., Evening Press.

WASHINGTON CALLING
by MARQUIS CHILDS

President Meets Setback On Proposal

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—When President Truman was asked at his press conference about the action of the house in bottling up the unemployment compensation bill, he seemed reluctant to comment.

At first he protested that it was not a defeat for his policy. When a reporter persisted, the president said somewhat lamely that he would have to take the matter up with the leaders of the house.

It is a real setback, and nothing can conceal that fact. First, the senate cut the unemployment proposal down, refusing to agree to the use of federal funds to boost the maximum to $25 a week. This seems to have been due in part, at least, to the bungling of one of the president's assistants. But nevertheless, it was a rebuff to the White House.

Aggravating Dilemma

Then the house ways and means committee, with four Democrats joining 10 Republicans, voted to keep the bill off the floor, so that the house as a whole cannot even consider the measure.

What aggravates the president's dilemma is that the defeat was administered by his old friends on Capitol Hill. It came from Walter and Harry and Tom—the first-name cronies with whom warm-hearted Harry Truman was so close in his senatorial days.

Frequently, in answer to press conference questions about policy, the president replies by citing his voting record in the senate. That voting record was a progressive one. There were few exceptions.

His voting record as a liberal in the senate did not prevent Truman from forming firm friendships with the congressional conservatives who, through their key committee positions, block progressive legislation whenever they can. More often than not, these conservatives are agreeable companions and good poker players, possessed of a fund of wonderful stories.

But Truman, the liberal president, is another matter altogether. Friendship does not bridge the gap between progressive intentions and conservative prejudices.

Net Results Same

In the face of his earnest entreaty for social legislation, Truman's Democratic friends behave almost as though the request had come from Truman's predecessor in the White House. While they are somewhat more polite about his messages, the net result seems to be the same.

Here, of course, the matter of party regularity enters in. Truman has shown an inclination to hew close to the party line.

Recent appointments to the federal circuit court of appeals in Washington were all of party men of a conservative cast. The president has frankly avowed his party loyalty.

That is in the long tradition of American politics. But part of that tradition is that you get something in return. Patronage builds party solidarity and furthers the program of the administration.

It doesn't work that way today. Truman goes along. His friends in congress do nothing.

The question of unemployment compensation is only a phase of the bigger problem confronting the man in the White House. The debate that led up the ways and means committee vote was revealing of the cross-currents of opinion running strong throughout the country.

Conservative Democrats and Republicans grumbled that the unemployed wouldn't work if you put unemployment compensation up to a maximum of $25 a week and extended the time to be covered. They talked about the number of want ads in every paper appealing for workers for every kind of job.

In reply, Representative Herman P. Eberharter of Pennsylvania argued that the bill wasn't just for the present moment. It was to meet a situation that may exist six or nine months from now, when there may be seven or eight million unemployed.

The conservative talked, too, about strikes and higher pay. That is the real source of hostility. That is the heart of the president's problem—how to reconcile those who want to keep take-home pay at wartime levels with those who want to go back to pre-war standards.

OVERCOMING INFERIORITY COMPLEX

So many people write to me complaining about their shyness resulting from an inferiority complex. "How can I overcome this incubus?" they ask. "How can I rid myself of the overwhelming bashfulness I experience when I meet strangers?"

Take the bull by the horns and conquer it before it conquers you! Come out of that impenetrable shell and act as if there is a spark of life in you. Show some enthusiasm toward those around you. Be cordial! Be vivacious! Forget yourself! Do not sit back in a corner, giving the impressions that you are either too stupid to voice an opinion or too aloof to be interested in the conversation.

Do not hide your light under a bushel. Focus your mind upon those about you and the topics they are discussing, projecting it as far as possible from yourself and the impression you are making.

If you are not demonstrative by nature, become so by practice. Step forward with a hearty handshake and a warm welcome when you are introduced. Do not shy back as if afraid of being swallowed alive. Enjoy as many fine plays, fine screen features, fine books as you can and they will give you food for expression. Avoid controversial subjects. When a conversation turns toward argument, change the subject.

The greatest God-given asset is charm. If nature omitted it from your make-up, develop it by fighting introspection, sensitiveness, the tendency to be opinionated.

Remember the old saying: "If you have charm, you need nothing else; and if you haven't it, nothing else matters."

Tomorrow—A Few Do's and Don'ts

The Parent Problem
By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WORKING MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

Ever so many working mothers who are not forced, for want of mere subsistance, to work, should quit their jobs right away. They should, unless they have some responsible persons at home to protect and guide the child in the mother's absence; and unless, moreover, these working mothers can, while home, find time and leisure for repose and affectionate companionship with their children.

Unfortunately, many mothers whose children are over 8 or 10 years of age, suppose these children don't need any responsible person at home that they can safely look after themselves. And they are not nearly all working mothers who believe this.

Away From Home

A great many mothers now, and in past years, who have never worked away from home, are seldom there when their children are not in school. Some of them are seeking pleasures elsewhere and a few are engaged in welfare work "to save other people's children."

Wonderful it would be if the mothers who suppose they are the socially elite would make being at home practically every evening to greet the children when they arrive-home-from-school the thing to do. Then many other mothers might emulate them.

I can concede that an occasional mother, perhaps one in a thousand, might be fitted to live with at home because she works. Yet most mothers who work, even those who leave the children with a responsible person, can hardly provide the kind and amount of companionship at home the husband and the children should have.

Comes Home Tired

Coming home tired from her day's work, she may have numerous things to look after and considerable work to do. At best, there may arise numerous problems, due to her absence, relating to the children. Encumbered with all these cares, how can she contribute her best to the family atmosphere?

Instead, she may be easily irritated and, in turn, make the rest of the family less happy. Nor may the parents substitute be able in the mother's absence to cultivate as good habits of responsibility in the children as the mother should be able to do. While a few mother-substitutes may excel the mother in managing the children, not many can. Indeed there hardly can be an ideal substitute for really good mothering.

Some Working Mothers

Here and there a mother whose husband earns a fairly comfortable income for the family has been working for the reason, chiefly, that she wishes to dress the family better and live in a home more luxurious than the husband's income alone would afford. Some also have been working with a view to earning extra money to send their children to a private school now and later to college.

These mothers tend to lose perspective in their measure of values. They don't realize that the best home guidance affection and companionship to be afforded their children, can't safely be exchanged for any materials or educational opportunities which money can buy. Discerning mothers put first for their children what cannot be bought by price and can never perish.

The World and the Mud Puddles

POLITICAL ECONOMY? HUH!

One phase of the reconversion problem comes to a head in Washington with the protests being registered against limitation of prices on certain types of goods to the figures of 1942. OPA is trying to keep down prices to consumers, and the President has said increases in wages can be made only where they do not increase commodity costs to the public. The issue in its present stage involves wholesalers and retailers more directly than manufacturers; as they interpret increased costs, due to higher wages than those paid in 1942, while the manufacturer loses nothing and the employee will gain. If the price to the consumer remains the same, while the cost to the manufacturer is up on account of higher wage scales, the middlemen obviously will have to bear the increase.

As business is organized in this country, distribution is made almost entirely by wholesalers, jobbers and retailers. Naturally, they are in business to make profits, just as everyone else. If they can't make profits, they must get out of business. As they are employers of labor, their retirement from business would throw people out of jobs. Thus it is possible that, instead of helping employment by rigid or unfair profit restrictions, or by the practical elimination of profits to distributors, we may create more unemployment.

The whole problem is one that calls for more than snap judgment and mere arbitrary rulings. It would seem that the OPA and other federal agencies should have made a sound survey of production and distribution costs and at the same time analyzed thoroughly the actual difference in labor costs before adopting a rule-of-thumb procedure.

If wages above 1942 scales add to the cost of a given product, it would seem that the wage earners—who constitute the bulk of consumers—could meet at least a fair share of this added cost without undue hardship or without promoting inflation. It is an economic fallacy to assume that wage increases and increases in cost of materials can be borne without some resultant increase in the price of the product. The only exception is where extraordinary efficiency and increased pro-

Navy Wives Envious Of Mrs. MacArthur Joins Famous Husband In Land Of Nips Get Seats In Parliament For Big Loan

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has taken his wife to Tokyo—his child, too—and he's made a lot of other wives unhappy!

"And," many wives of army officers are saying, "here I sit, waiting for my husband to come home."

"It was bad enough when Gen. MacArthur kept Jean in Manila and made the rest of the husbands send their wives home. But having her in Tokyo. This is really too much to bear calmly!"

The wives of ranking officers in both the army and navy are in a state of agitation at having to keep on being brave and gay and likewise "the wives they left behind them."

I understand their resentment and disappointment. But I think General MacArthur is entitled to have his wife with him. Any commanding general is entitled to have his wife with him if he wishes. Any top ranking admiral is entitled to have his wife with him.

Who would tell either commander he couldn't do so? Certainly not the president of the United States.

General MacArthur has no other boss than his commander-in-chief.

It isn't likely that Mr. Truman would have said to the man who won the war in the Pacific: "Send your wife home!" Hardly! What gratitude!

In the good old days commanding officers took their wives to war. Kept them out of the combat zone, naturally.

It was an old seagoing custom for the skipper of a ship to take his wife on cruises. So much of a custom that no one questioned his propriety.

The feeling of the officers' staff and crew was something like this: "The Old Man has a lot of responsibility running this ship. If he is happier having his Missus along, then by all means let him have her."

On a ship as in an army center, it would be impossible to permit any other officer but the very top fellow to bring his family. Such wholesale domesticity would overcrowd the premises and I wouldn't do to pick favorites among the subordinates.

Douglas MacArthur, so I hear it said around, has the ideal personality for the role of commander of Japan. He is a super showman.

The Asiatic mind demands showmanship. It has no respect for self-effacement and uncertainty. It understands General MacArthur and regards him with awe.

Latest rumor concerning the choice for U. S. ambassador to Britain is James Clement Dunn.

Dunn, long a close friend of the former secretary of state, Cordell Hull, has become a most effective assistant to the present secretary of state, James Byrnes.

It is not reported that Byrnes and Dunn, who rejoice in the same first name are being called "Jimmie" indiscriminately during the present Balkan conference in London. However, they are doing right well among the Allies.

Secretary and Mrs. Byrnes are due back in Washington soon. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn will remain in London until after Christmas—if not longer.

Apropos of that "grant" of three billion or more that some foreign economists are urging we make to Britain, I heard an astounding remark yesterday.

"Very well. Grant them the money. But if you do, give us a couple of seats in Parliament in exchange."

"And why not? We'll be taxed to make up those billions, won't we? We used to think way back in 1776 that 'Taxation without representation is tyranny.' Why doesn't the same rule hold now?"

Maybe somebody will put the question to Mr. Truman at his next news conference.

Mr. President, whom will you appoint to represent the American

EQUIVALENT OF EDUCATION

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, under the terms of a recent act of the Legislature, has established a special bureau to issue "high school equivalent" diplomas to young people who did not finish their high school studies but can demonstrate their fitness to enter college. It may be done by presenting evidence of studies completed in connection with military service or at evening schools; or the candidate may qualify by passing examination.

The system attempts to deal with a problem of concern to many educators. Experience is education, and some experiences of young men at work or war may be a better training for life and usefulness than high school classes. Travel is education, and there was never a more traveled generation than those who fought this war. The kind of war they fought, moreover, demanded specialized schooling for many of them.

Admittedly, a knowledge of radar or automotive engineering is not the equivalent of a course in Latin or literature or American history. But it is education. It has some value in determining a young man's eligibility for college. So has his age—and he is likely to be much more of a man than a boy after years of military service.

It would be injustice to deny ambitious veterans or war workers the opportunities of higher education because they lack a high school diploma, but are otherwise college material. Pennsylvania's plan will not solve the problem for all of them, but it does recognize that there is a problem.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

LOOKING AT LIFE
By ERICH BRANDEIS

A new medical science, the study of man's tiniest enemies, which are particles measured in a millionth of an inch and much smaller than microbes, has been announced by Duke University.

These particles are viruses, of which about 100 are known at present, all causing disease. They are so small that when ten billion of them are concentrated in one cubic centimeter of liquid, they don't even fog the solution.

It seems remarkable that medical science, which has made such wonderful strides in so many fields, is still so backward in others.

There is the common cold for instance, and cancer, and sinus trouble and arthritis.

Millions of people are suffering from them and still no one has found a cure for any of them.

Three weeks ago I had a toothache. I went to the best dentist in Danbury, who X-rayed my teeth.

"Your first and second left upper molars are abscessed," was the verdict. "They have to come out at once."

So I made an appointment with the extractionist, but first, to be sure, I went to a New York dentist for a check-up. He confirmed the Danbury man's findings and I was ready for the extraction. In the meantime, by the way, the toothache had stopped.

Before going to the extractionist, I visited the denture man who was supposed to put in a bridge after the teeth were pulled. He examined the X-ray and my teeth.

"If I were you I wouldn't have those teeth pulled," he said, "you may have them for another ten years."

Well, I figured, two dentists have advised pulling, so I better go through with it.

In the afternoon I went to the extractionist. He looked at the X-rays and inspected my teeth thoroughly.

"I won't pull those teeth," he said. "They are abscessed all right, but the abscesses are walled in. You may keep those teeth five or ten years or all your life. Or you may have to have them pulled next week. But isn't it worth taking a chance?"

So there you are. I still have my teeth, and they haven't bothered me for three weeks.

My wife is in the hospital to get penicillin treatment for her sinus.

Deuce, the dog, is sneezing. He has a cold.

Viruses, a millionth of an inch in size.

But how about your teeth and mine, and your sinuses and my wife's and your colds and Deuce's cold?

There is something for you to chew on, you men of science!

P. S. I just read about a new cure for which there is not yet a disease.

Governor Martin Warns Government On Heavy Spending

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 28.—(INS)—A blunt warning for the federal government to "swiftly and drastically stop spending so much money" was issued last night by Gov. Edward Martin.

Now, since the war is won, we must begin to fight our way back to both solvency and peace," he declared at a meeting honoring Dr. Joseph L. Warne, Pottsville physician, who received an American Legion award.

"Solvency in government, like solvency in private affairs, means cutting costs and living within our means," the governor said.

"In the war we performed production miracles," he added. "The pay for all this production came from high taxes and the sale of bonds. These bonds must be paid to insure national solvency. Our billions of dollars in outstanding bonds are for things which are gone."

The national "balance sheet," the governor asserted, was not favorable. He urged economy in government.

"Government's job, local, state and federal, is to cut costs to the bone and encourage individuals in every way possible to create new wealth to take the place of what has been destroyed by war," the governor added.

Horseshoe Curve To Be Reopened

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 28.—(INS)—Mayor H. A. Brumbaugh today said he will submit a plan to the Altoona city council to reopen historic horseshoe curve to tourist traffic.

During the war Altoona city authorities closed the site to sightseers for reasons of security. The area of horseshoe curve includes the city's three large impounding reservoirs in the valley immediately below the curve.

LASSES

Most all children like molasses. It is a good kind of sugar. It provides a lot of iron and other necessary minerals.

Granulated sugar provides nothing but sugar. It has everything else taken out of it.

Some people like molasses on bread or pancakes but it is just as valuable when used in cooking or baking.

Ginger cake and ginger cookies hit the spot pretty well. A snack of ginger cookies and milk for Bill when he comes home from a swim will help to keep him in good condition till supper time.

Molasses and milk both provide some protein which Bill needs for building a good strong body.

There are two kinds of lasses and both are sweet. Bill knows.

Little Change In Business Level

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28—(INS)—Little change was reflected in the level of business last week in the Pittsburgh district, the bureau of business research, University of Pittsburgh, today reported.

The bureau's index stood at 163.2 per cent of the 1935-39 average as compared with 163.4 per cent of the previous week.

Industrial production and freight shipments sagged a little, but the decrease was offset by a moderate gain in the volume of trade.

The steel ingot rate was fractionally higher, but finished mill schedules held about unchanged. Bituminous coal production was lower than the preceding week due to the shutdown of mines by strikes.

TWO ARE KILLED IN AUTO CRASHES AT PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—(INS)—inquests into the death of a four-year-old girl and an elderly man, killed in automobile accidents, will be held today as Pittsburgh's traffic toll mounted.

The girl, Ruth Ann Sheets, died in Allegheny hospital after she was struck by an automobile, which police said, was driven by Joseph Hrach, of Pittsburgh. Hrach said the girl ran in front of his car.

Harry Charma 70, of Ben Avon, died of a broken neck after he was struck by an automobile. Police said the driver of the car was John Fabian, of Bellevue.

Few Metal Toys For 1945 Christmas

Only Token Showing Is Expected For Coming Holiday Period In United States

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(INS)—For the kids who have been dreaming these past few years of bright red firetrucks, electric trains and other mechanical toys spread out under their Christmas tree, the 1945 Yuletide season probably will be another big disappointment.

Preliminary indications are that less than eight per cent of the toys available this Christmas will be made of metal, despite the fact that restrictions were lifted shortly after V-J day.

The capitulation of the Japs came too late in the year for the manufactures to reconvert and attain mass production in time to hit the Christmas jackpot, according to James L. Fri, managing director of the Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A.

Only Token Showing

On the basis of a nationwide Survey of Manufacturers and Store Buyers just completed by the toy trade association, Fri reported.

"There will be only a token showing of wheel toys, electric trains and mechanical toys this year. The only metal toy lines which will be produced in any volume will be the simple types of stamped-out metal toys."

Rubber toys are not expected to appear in any volume this year either, and plastic items will be available in about the same quantities as last year, Fri said the survey disclosed. Textile restrictions will continue to limit the production of dolls.

Improved quality is reported in wood and card board toy lines, according to Fri.

Total toy volume of 110 million dollars at wholesale valuation is anticipated with metal toys accounting for less than eight million dollars or about one-sixth of normal. In peacetime years, nearly one-half of the total volume was accounted for by merchandise having a substanial amount of metal, Fri reported.

"More than five million extra children have been added to the toy age population as a result of the high birth rate during war time years, as compared with the average of preceding peacetime years, and consumer purchasing power is at a high level," Fri said.

"These factors are expected to move available supplies of toy stocks rapidly and shortage conditions are anticipated in most lines. When manufacturers are able to fully reconvert, the consumer public will benefit from new ideas and production techniques developed during the war period."

RESUMES STUDIES

BOSTON—(INS)—A back to school movement among youthful ex-war workers is indicated in surveys by officials of 28 Greater Boston cities and towns. Girls formed the bulk of the back-to-school movement, but officials said that they exacted boys to form a higher proportion later in the fall. In some communities the new enrollment was the highest since 1942.

DOYLESTOWN—Thieves have started to steal morning newspapers delivered to business houses and officials may post watchers in cars and doorways to nab the crooks.

AROUND CITY HALL

The time may not be so far away when every member of the city police force while on duty will carry a radio to receive police broadcasts. At present, only cars are equipped with radios. There is now a radio-telephone which can be used by any man on the force without special training and which has range and power to maintain patrols to maintain contact with the control station at distances up to 50 miles. While writing of police radio it might be asserted that while city cars are radio equipped, State police cars operating here are not. Should the county commissioners feel inclined it might be a good investment for them to equip State police cars here with radios. In time of emergency, calls that come via the State police teletype, located in city police headquarters, could be relayed to them while they were protecting residents of rural districts.

It was in 1921 that the city of New Castle began its fight for a share of the gasoline tax refund and which will amount to $25,000 or $35,000 this year, according to Mayor John F. Haven who with Finance Director Albert Hoyland are "holding the fort" while other councilmen, City Controller W. A. Moore and City Health Superintendent W. A. Womer, are attending third class cities convention sessions in Harrisburg.

Police authorities will make every effort to apprehend persons who plug automobile exhaust pipes. Anyone who commits such an act is responsible for what happens to the car or the occupants. There has been thievery of accessories from cars recently here but John Law usually catches up with the thieves and those caught in the future may spend Thanksgiving Day with Deputy Sheriff Cy Ingham and not at home.

Although there are some people who believe city taxpayers bore the cost of the trailer camp in Jackson avenue, this is untrue. The only cost was for one fire plug. The expense was carried by the Federal government which installed the camp when it was said that there was a big need for war workers and no houses for them to live in.

Price Relief Is Asked By State Packers At Once

HERSHEY, Pa., Sept. 28—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Independent Meat Packers' Association appealed today to the Keystone State's congressional delegation for "price relief at once" to meet what were termed critical conditions in the industry.

"We must have price relief at once," a spokesman said. "Such relief must be retroactive in the form of increased subsidies or higher prices. Independent meat packers face a real emergency."

Delegates attending a two-day session which ended yesterday adopted a resolution calling upon Gov. Edward Martin to appoint "a state interdepartmental coordinating committee on food and nutrition to continue and expand the work of the war services of the state council of defense." The state council will be disbanded October 15.

State Whiskey Tax So Far This Year Brings $7,798,700

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28—(INS)—The state liquor control board reported today that the commonwealth collected $7,798,700.67 during the first eight months of this year through the "emergency" 10 per cent whiskey tax.

A spokesman explained that during the 1944 calendar year the state realized $11,787,626.12 from the 10-year-old special levy.

The 1945 general assembly re-enacted the impost and the budget office estimated that during the biennium ending May 31, 1947, the state would collect an estimated $23,500,000.

William A. Sponsler, III, assistant budget secretary, said the commonwealth realized $23,677,000 from the tax during the 1943-45 biennium ended May 31.

Three Desperadoes Are Being Hunted After Fleeing Jail

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Sept. 28—(INS)—Three desperadoes, inmates of the West Virginia State Penitentiary, today were the objects of a three-state police search.

The three convicts, Paul Hogston, Otto Neff and Walter Mays, fled into the woods last night near Moundsville, just before they were to be returned to the penitentiary from the state police barracks where they were on a painting detail.

Warden M. F. Ketchum said Hogston, 27, was serving life for murder, Neff, 34, ten years for kidnaping, and Mays was convicted of armed robbery.

Fishing Now Big Business On Tiny Guam

GUAM.—(INS)—People of Guam used to fish for the fun of it, and frequently for their personal subsistence, but today, under American military government, fishing has become big business for the Chamorro populace.

Pfc. Lester R. Weaver, of O'Fallon, Ill., who claims to be the only Marine who operates a fish market, collected about 32 tons, he said, last month.

Most popular fish on the island are atulae, known in Hawaii as akule and in the States as Spanish mackerel, and the Shipjack which in the States are called Jack Cavalla and in Hawaii are known as ulua. Waters off Guam also abound with Manahag, which are the young of the Lancet fish and which the natives pickle like anchovies. These are turtles, crabs, eels, mussels and several types of both black and white fish.

Co-op Association

In view of the fact that no fresh protein foods or meats can be imported for the Guamanians due to shortage of shipping space, Lieut. William V. Sausotte, who heads the military government's agricultural section, established what is known as the "Guam Commercial Fishermen's Association." Sausotte, who lives in 1459 18th Avenue, San Francisco, explained, "the setup works like a cooperative marketing association."

Branches of the association have been organized in ten villages of the island. Members of each branch elect a "head fisherman." His job is to direct fishing operations, requisition fishing supplies and facilitate picking up of the catch of his men.

Fish are caught by hauling and seining traps, according to Lieut. Sausotte, who said that lack of nets and other supplies keeps the catch from being as great as it might be. He said the Chamorro people easily could consume three to four tons of fish per day, and that anything above that amount would be marketed with the military.

Nice Profit

"Meanwhile," he said, "the fishermen themselves can make a nice living at their trade. A man who can bring in about two hundred pounds daily would make between thirty and forty dollars a week," even though the military government has placed a ceiling price on all types of fish so that they retail from 35 to 40 cents less per pound than they would in the

TWO WAIVE HEARING

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 28.—(INS)—James Mosier, former enforcement agent for the State Liquor Control Commission, and Harold E. Yauger, of Uniontown, waived preliminary hearing on charges of blackmailing today and were released on bond awaiting action of the December grand jury.

The two men were accused of "shaking down" Pete Tylishewski, of Republic. He said he gave them $140, $100 of which was marked money.

HOMEMADE SALAD DRESSING

Since commercially made salad dressing is not always available in grocery stores these days, many women are making their own. A simple, yet successful recipe for cooked dressing is as follows, and will make 1 and ½ cups of dressing.

3-4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1½ tablespoons sugar
Few grains cayenne
2 tablespoons flour
1 egg or 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons butter
3-4 cup milk
1-4 cup vinegar.

Mix dry ingredients thoroughly. Add egg, butter, milk, and vinegar slowly. Mix well and cook over boiling water or low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Cool. Store in a covered jar in refrigerator. If a thinner dressing is desired, omit one egg yolk.

French dressing is easily made and can be varied in many ways. For 3-4 cup of dressing, measure out ½ cup salad oil, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper or paprika, 1 teaspoon sugar, and 1-4 cup of lemon juice or vinegar. Put ingredients in a small bottle with a tight fitting cover and shake vigorously each time before using. Store dressing in the refrigerator. To vary French dressing for use on salad greens, add chopped parsley or chives, catsup, onion juice, chopped pickle or green pepper, choped hard cooked eggs, or finely diced cheese.

DON'T DISTURB ERRANT WIVES, SHAW ADVISES

LONDON. — (INS)—George Bernard Shaw thinks there is only one way for a husband to behave if he comes home from the wars and finds his wife has been unfaithful.

Shaw is all against the "crime passionel." In his view, the husband should behave very politely and rid himself of his wife via the divorce courts.

There should be no fisticuffs, no words, stabbings or shootings.

"If a soldier comes home and finds his wife in another man's arms, willingly — mind you — he should, as a gentleman, leave the room immediately, close the door behind him, quietly, so as not to disturb them — and sue for divorce," Shaw said.

Charge Japs Are Responsible For Indo-China Riots

LONDON, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Circles close to French Foreign Minister George Bidault charged today that Japanese militarists are responsible for the Annamese uprising in French Indo-China.

French authorities, these sources said, intercepted secret messages from Japanese headquarters in Indo-China to subordinates throughout the territory instructing Japanese officers to supply arms and give all required aid to the secessionists.

Hold Japs Responsible

According to French circles, the intercepted messages clearly established that Field Marshal Count Juichi Terauchi, Japanese commander in the Saigon area, is responsible for disorders in this region which already have cost the life of one American officer in addition to numerous other casualties.

The so-called Vietnam, or Annamese nationalist movement which now professes to be a left-wing democratic group fighting for independence, is a sham, these sources alleged.

It actually is composed of former Emperor Baodai's court Camarilla, which collaborated with the Japanese, and also embraces communist party leaders, the charge continued.

When this former collaborationist Camarilla saw the Allies arrive, the French informant said, its members quickly despised the emperor and made common cause with the communists "in order to cover up its Fascist past."

Babson Discusses Food Growing - Gives Warning

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1945, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Sept. 28—We today eat food for two reasons: (1) To provide us with necessary starches, proteins, vitamins, minerals etc. so as to give us growth and strength. (2) To give us the pleasure which comes through taste, odor and the formation of the gastric juices.

BABSON

The best foods are those which naturally combine both (1) and (2) as outlined above. These were the foods which my ancestors raised on the virgin soils of Cape Ann which have since become run out. Not only were the vegetables and other products of the soil much better in those days, but also the cattle and poultry, including the milk, eggs and butter. If you have any doubt as to this compare the taste of the blueberries which you, yourself, pick and the trout which you, yourself, catch with the frozen food and fish which you buy at the market.

Not only are our foods becoming less nourishing and less tasty from soil deterioration, but the various ways of processing foods in order to make them "ready to eat", have taken from them further valuable qualities. This applies not only to what is done to the wheat and the sugar, but also to the picking of fruit before it is ripe. It is true that bread is in part artificially "enriched" by chemicals or rays; but only a very few products are now being treated in this way.

Importance of Odors

Yesterday I was in the old kitchen where my mother cooked my meals for many years. The kitchen wood stove has gone and a gas stove or electric range takes its place. This is okay of itself, but the big iron pot which my mother always kept simmering on the back of the stove has, of course, gone likewise. This was the pot in which she stored the water in which the vegetables, meats and other things had been boiled. It was full of vitamins, minerals and other valuable foods which can now be secured only at drug stores.

Not only do our homes lack that iron pot of vitamins, but many of them now have an electric fan in the wall which draws out the valuable odors. As a result, that important aroma which comes from the bacon at breakfast, the roasts of meat at dinner, and the stewed fruits at supper is thrown away into the air. Yet, these aromas are most necessary for developing the gastric juices so important for arousing our appetites and digesting our foods; also certain common mental difficulties may be due to the lack of aroma stimulation. Our whole food situation is topsy-turvy. No wonder adults are breaking physically and children "going to the dogs". The two factors which make good citizens are religion and food. Today both are pretty wishy-washy!

Looking Into the Future

Tow important developments are taking place: (1) The analysis of foods to ascertain which are the most valuable, and (2) the development of synthetic flavorings. I refer to the chemists' ability to make cooked apples taste like peaches or plums, or to make cooked carrots taste like mushrooms or artichokes. Our children will be able to buy foods purely for their health-giving qualities and then give them the flavor of any vegetable or fruit desired. This should reduce living costs, improve family health and give more joy when eating.

Under the above system escarole (chickory) or beet greens or carrots, which are very rich in vitamins and easily raised, would be flavored so as to taste like any fruit or vegetable desired. In the same way, beans, peas and lentils, which are very rich in iron, would be served to taste like more expensive and tasty meats. We will still be able to buy a can of "peaches"—the contents tasting like peaches and healthier than peaches—but they may be made from one of the base vegetables such as carrots.

Caution To Farmers

All of the above means that before spending more money setting out peach and apple orchards, or orange and grapefruit groves, readers should carefully study this subject. Annual crops may be a much safer investment than tree crops or shrub crops; while money invested in good chemical stocks may be safer than if invested in farm land.

Tells New Story Of Brutality In Camp At Belsen

Young Polish Jewess Testifies As To Treatment Accorded Her At Concentration Camp

LUENEBURG, Sept. 28.—(INS)—A 25-year-old Polish Jewess today showed a military court the scars of dog's teeth on her arms and legs sustained when she aroused the ire of Irma Grese, the aide to the infamous "Beast of Belsen".

Testifying against Josef Kramer, the notorious commandant of the Belsen concentration camp, and his forty-four co-defendants, Hanka Rosenzweig told of being thrown into a pen with a starved dog after she had displeased the gun-toting, club-wielding Irma.

The young Jewes also told of eating nettles and weeds to survive.

Defense Is Planned

Meanwhile, the defense prepared to prove the women defendants in the atrocity trial were civilians and thus beyond jurisdiction of the British military court.

The defense also will contend that the charges before the court disclose no actual offense committed by any of the 45 defendants charged with complicity in the death of some 4,000,000 persons. The defendants' case probably will be presented in two weeks.

At the same time, it was disclosed that Col. H. A. Smith, London University professor and authority on international law, had accepted an invitation to collaborate with defense counsel. He is now in London to consult with other international lawyers.

The court agreed to hear Col. Smith's arguments when he returns provided he represents all the defendants and subject to the convening officer's approval.

Woman Defendant In Belsen Trials Becomes Hysterical

LUENEBURG, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Helen Kopper, fat, swarthy defendant in the "Beast of Belsen" trials, broke Thursday under the steady barrage of horror details presented by some of her victims and was led from the courtroom screaming hysterically.

Court recessed for ten minutes after the Kopper woman's mind broke and she shouted:

"Why do they beat me? Why do the soldiers beat me?" she wept untrollably as Irma Grese, aide to Josef Kramer, the infamous "Beast of Belsen", eyed her scornfully.

The woman's outburst came after one of her victims told of being marched naked through the snow while she belabored the prisoners with kicks and clubs.

Brothers Facing Serious Charges

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Pittsburgh Police Inspector Frank Ferris today said that Jerry and Thomas Boyce will be turned over to Cleveland, O., authorities who want them on a charge of murder and armed robbery.

The Boyce brothers, Inspector Ferris said, have been indicted in Cleveland, Jerry for a holdup-murder and Thomas for armed robbery.

The brothers were arrested in Pittsburgh last week after a wild chase from the scene of a holdup.

Emperor Hirohito 'Loses Face' In His Visit To MacArthur

Such Is Japanese Reaction To Unprecedented Meeting At Tokyo Says Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—(INS)—NBC, quoting their Tokyo correspondent Bob Reuben, said today that Emperor Hirohito "lost face" by going to Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Reuben, describing Japanese reaction to their god-ruller's visit to his conqueror, said the meeting "will—more than any other event—make the people feel the humiliation of military defeat."

Reuben was eating in a station when a messenger came into the room and announced the historic meeting. The messenger said the emperor had called at MacArthur's private residence.

The station master dropped his chop sticks and stared at the boy. A woman who was drinking green tea broke into tears. Another Japanese laid his head on his arms.

For fully a minute no one spoke.

"But it was apparent," said the correspondent, "that the emperor had lost face and had been deeply humiliated."

"'Do you lie? They asked the boy. And in reply came a typical Japanese expression:

"'My heart is broken.'

"'Please,' the woman begged, 'it is not true.'

"'Do not make us suffer more. Please go,' the people said to the messenger.

"The youth went out into the street where he met a Japanese army nurse, a veteran of Singapore. She was angry with the supreme commander and felt that he had taken advantage of his position as conqueror to disgrace the emperor," Reuben reported.

B.P.O.E. 69 Sponsors Deshon Annex Party

Biggest Crowd Of 'G.I.'s' In Monthly Party Series Attends At Sylvan Heights

Thursday night, September 27, was the monthly stag party night for Deshon Annex at Sylvan Heights Golf club and this month's party was sponsored by the War Commission of the local Elks. The crowd of "GI's" was the largest since the series started in August, 1944, about 75 wounded veterans being present.

For the first hour and a half the men enjoyed an old fashioned sing-sing, with Cliff James at the piano. An excellent floor show from Pittsburgh took the next hour and the finish of the evening was a cold cut lunch spread by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Haycock, managers of the golf club. Without any question the party was one of the standouts of the series.

For the Elks the following committee handled the arrangements: Harry Carlson, Major Guy J. Waglinger, Dale Young, Harry Taylor and W. A. "Dinny" Moore.

General Sherman, who was credited with saying "War is Hell," declared that he did not remember uttering such a remark.

Soldiers' Widows Get Job Preference Unless Remarried

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—(INS)—The Civil Service Commission was advised today by the justice department that job-seeking widows of soldiers killed in action were entitled to veterans' preference only if they remain unmarried.

Widows of soldiers who died of "war caused disabilities" were affected similarly.

The department ruling was made in a formal opinion to Civil Service Commissioner Ruth G. Pennell who had requested an interpretation of several sections of the veterans' preference act.

The opinion pointed out that wives of totally disabled veterans also may receive the benefits of the act but wives of "partially disabled" ex-servicemen would be ineligible for the 10 per cent bonus in scoring civil service examinations.

The act does not waive the necessity of the soldier being required to possess the minimum experience qualifications designated for public positions ' the department ruled.

The opinion defined disabled servicemen as those who have "an official statement from the veterans administration, the war department, the navy department or the coast guard certifying to his disability."

Communities Rush To Meet State's Project Deadline

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—(INS)—The Postwar Planning commission reported today that 92 communities have submitted applications for state aid in blueprinting improvement projects estimated to cost $22,000,000.

Officials said the requests more than doubled during the past few days as local officials rushed to meet the "first consideration" deadline October 1. Late application were expected to be received up to the first of the year, but will be treated as second choice in allocating funds, they added.

Most proposed projects were the construction, expansion or improvement of public schools, it was reported. The commission has a $1,000,000 grant from the General Assembly for assisting local planning.

Time Change Will Provide Problem Setting Clocks

To prevent general confusion in reverting to standard time, after having observed war time for more than three and a half years, the public should set all clocks back an hour before going to bed Saturday night (September 29), it was stated today by Mrs. Gladys W. Baker local manager of the Western Union Telegraph company. Standard time becomes effective at 2. a. m. Sunday.

The telegraph people cannot change the many thousand of Western Union clocks at once, Mr. Gladys W. Baker said, so the company is sending instruction to all subscribers stating that the minute hands should be turned forward around the dials eleven times to set the clocks back one hour to the new standard time. In resetting an electrically synchronized clock of any other clock, Mrs. Baker pointed out, the minute hand should never be turned back and the hour hand should not be touched.

If Western Union clocks in radio station, railroad station, industrial plants, on public buildings and in offices, stores, theaters, and schools were wrong, much confusion would result. It will be possible for Western Union people, Mrs. Baker said, to reset in a short period of time only clocks in locations not difficult to reach.

Two Weeks' Orders Of Liquor In State Total $8,731,807

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Auditor General G. Harold Wagner announced today that state liquor control board purchase orders totaling $8,731,807.32 were approved between September 14 and 27.

Wagner explained that the orders approved included 124,165 cases of domestic whiskey valued at $3,471,663.29 and 4,165 cases of imported whiskey worth $191,199.50.

Frederick T. Gelder, chairman of the LCB, emphasized that the end of liquor rationing was not contemplated immediately despite Wagner's approval of the orders.

"The orders approved by the auditor general do not mean the end of whiskey rationing at the end of the present period on October 13," he declared.

Other purchases approved included: 450,285 cases of domestic wines, $3,360,276.85; 33,208 cases of domestic gin, $819,957.14; 8,771 cases of domestic cordials, $271,270.12; 5,955 cases of domestic champagne, $130,464.55; and 7,660 cases of domestic brandy, $239,429.40.

Shipyard Strike Agreement Reached

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 28.—(INS)—The New York Shipbuilding Corporation today prepared to resume operations following the settlement of a week-long sit-down strike.

Management and union officials at the Camden yards announced they had reached an agreement to review the cases of several workers discharged after the navy charged some of the shipworkers were "loafing."

The sit-downers, cheering and singing, filed from within the company gates as leaders of the CIO-Industrial union of Marine and shipbuilding workers told them the strike had ended in "a good union victory."

Under the agreement, the plan will resume full operations not later than Monday. The discharged employes will meet with company officials today to discuss reinstatement.

During current contract negotiations, a spokesman said, both sides will attempt to work out a satisfactory understanding "regarding the proper control of loafing."

Compromise On Balkans Possible

Reports Heard Deadlock In Big Five Parley May Be Overcome

LONDON, Sept. 28.—(INS)—The foreign ministers of the five major world powers held a morning conference session today amid reports that a deadlock in negotiations may be overcome by a new compromise formula on the Balkans.

It was learned that Great Britain was considering limited recognition of the Hungarian government by appointing a political representative to Budapest.

In view of this and the Washington announcement that the United States will recognize Hungary if she holds free elections, authoritative council circles still are hopeful that it may be possible to re-examine the Balkan problem before the conference is adjourned.

While the majority of the delegates appear to be set for a weekend departure, there has been no official word as yet as to when the wind-up of the conference can be expected.

To Meet Tomorrow

Information was made available that the conference would meet again this afternoon and also tomorrow morning.

Talks so far today involved the complicated claims of the French for return of property first stolen by the Germans and then requisitioned by the Russians.

Another question understood to have come up was that of Russia's claim to Romanian oil equipment as legitimate Soviet booty. The Russians claim that the Germans had seized this equipment to use at Ploesti which the Nazis expected to occupy.

The Russians have objected strenuously throughout to participation of China and France in coversations to draw up peace treaties with the Balkan countries.

Reports from conference circles are that a substitute plan has been arranged by the United States delegation under Secretary of State James F. Byrnes which would exclude China but allow France a voice in the majority of discussions.

Technical matters involved in drawing the treaties with Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria, it was understood, would be left entirely to the big three.

Causes Of Forest Fires In State

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Careless smokers caused nearly a fifth of all forest fires in Pennsylvania last year. Careless campers caused almost as many and railroads caused more.

The United States Forest Service estimates total tangible and direct damage of 1,743 forest fires in the state in 1944 at $159,897. Nearly 68,000 acres were burned. The average fire damaged 39 acres.

By cause, the fires were divided as follows:

Railroads, 375; smokers, 340; campers, 334; debris burning, 173; incendiarism, 117; lightning, 11; lumber operators, 2; miscellaneous causes, 391.

Nationally, the largest number of fires was caused by smokers, with incendiarism second and railroads fifth.

Hillman Demands Labor Be Given Voice In Peace

PARIS, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO political action committee, warned today that unless labor is given an official voice in maintaining the peace, the world will suffer another catastrophic war in "our generation."

Speaking at today's session of the World Trade Union Council, Hillman made the startling prediction as he called upon labor delegates to approve his formal demand for labor representation on the United Nations control commission.

Hillman heatedly told the labor convention that "American big business is effectively represented on the United Nations council."

And he added:

"We must insure that they don't prevent a lasting peace by their financial manipulations as they did the last time."

Truman Urged To Call Convention

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(INS)—President Truman was urged to call for a constitutional convention to federate the nations of the world.

A letter signed by Owen J. Roberts, retired associate justice of the supreme court, and 38 writers, educators and clergymen was sent to the president asking action leading toward a federal world government.

It was urged that control of the atomic bomb be placed in the hands of the new organization.

The United Nations organization "is almost mathematically certain not to be strong enough to carry the weight of atomic power," the letter said.

British Troops Are Moved Into Palestine

LONDON, Sept. 28.—(INS)—NBC Correspondent Romney Wheeler said today that Great Britain has just moved an entire paratroop division into Palestine.

He said officially the troops, numbering about 10,000, are to prevent illegal border traffic.

But military quarters said they would be available for other duties in case of violence.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(INS)—There's a "Shangri-La" in a hidden valley in the wilds of New Guinea. So says Lt. John F. Dailey, C-47 pilot of North Adams, Mass., who is now awaiting reassignment at the AAF Redistribution Station No. 1 here. "You couldn't land at it," he said, "but I've flown over the place a number of times. It was the most uncany thing I ever saw. There's a tribe of natives there who wear no clothes. No one knows how they got there."

British Constable Slain In Palestine

JERUSALEM, Sept. 28.—(INS)—A British constable was shot fatally today at the central post office in Tel Aviv, Palestine, just as an explosion occured nearby.

The blast itself caused no casualties.

The constable was shot by two youths when he refused to hand over letters which he had collected from the post office.

"GENERAL WAINWRIGHT'S OWN STORY" brings the long awaited answers to these questions—to all Americans!

General Wainwright has come back from the dead—surviving all of the ordeals and hardships the fiendish Japs could inflict. Yes, he has come back to bring to the American people—the people of the world an authentic, historical account of his experiences with, and at the hands of, the Japs. He tells vividly and graphically of the heart breaking days on Corregidor, of the "Death March on Bataan," of his final surrender to the Japs, of his long months and years in Jap prison camps.

He does not tell of himself, though, but rather of the brave, heroic men—living and dead who upheld all the traditions of valor and unselfish devotion, so typical of American fighting men.

Jonathan Wainwright is not a talkative man—he is not given to emotional outbursts or exaggeration. Rather is he conservative and tolerant, understanding and kind—but when all Americans have read "General Wainwright's Own Story" then and then only will they know Japan and the Japanese people—then and then only will they realize the civilized world must never again permit the Japanese Empire or the Japanese people to rise to a position of Military power.

Of all the accounts and stories that have come out of World War II there is no story so complete—no story so gripping and authentic as "General Wainwright's Own Story."

Starting on Sunday, October 7, "General Wainwright's Own Story" will appear every day thereafter for 6 full weeks—it is a complete story—an authentic history of our war with Japan—it is the story that will be in history books that all future generations may know the truth about Japan and the Japanese people.

Women Students Control Holcad

Miss Ruth Stoehr Of Pittsburgh Is Westminster Paper Editor-In-Chief For Her Second Year

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 28.—Although there are more men on the campus this year than any year since the nation went all-out in the war effort, women students will again control the policies of "The Holcad," the weekly newspaper at Westminster College.

The women have demonstrated their ability as first-class journalists. The paper has continued to win All-American honors despite the feminine touch.

Starting her second year as editor-in-chief is Miss Ruth Stoehr of Pittsburgh. In her first staff meeting she urged that men with journalistic experience be given opportunities to participate with a view to their appointment to the staff during the present year.

Other women holding important staff positions are: Mary Alsop, Dormont and Jo Ann Cochran, Aliquippa, managing editors; Grace Jones, New Brighton, and Judith Gordon, Oakmont, news editors; Virginia McConnell, McKeesport, business manager; Betty Sheffler, Greensburg, advertising; Beverly Frye, Johnstown, and Claire Quigley, Wilkinsburg, features; Evelyn Hill, Emsworth, society; Margaret McLane, Pittsburgh, copy editor; Nancy Heim, Warren, O., and Colleen Gibson, Tarentum, reporters; Helen Bird, Canonsburg, and Betty Jane Nickerson, Wildwood, N. J., circulation managers.

Only men on the staff are James Sidey, Dunkirk, N. Y., circulation, and William Henry, R. D. 2, Livermore, advertising.

State Commerce Department Plans Industry Growth

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—(INS).—A campaign "to promote industrial expansion" in Pennsylvania was being mapped today by the State Commerce Department.

Department officals and members of the State Planning Board were slated to meet with representatives of 11 counties at Williamsport Monday in the first of a series of eight conferences on "Pennsylvania progress."

Commerce Secretary Floyd Chalfant said the meetings were designed "to get the promotional work of the improvement drive back to the counties." Self-appraisal programs will be urged to determine local assets and liabilities in attracting new industries, he added.

Meetings will be held at Altoona, October 2; Warren, October 3; Pittsburgh, October 4; Harrisburg, October 8; Wilkes-Barre, October 9; Allentown, October 10; and Philadelphia, October 11.

The East Brook F. F. A. initiated eight new members into the first, or Greenhand degree of the organization at their regular monthly night meeting September 20. Those initiated included the following freshmen: Burl Brown, Jack Brua Elmer Dambach, Eugene Downing, Arthur Rote, William Shaffer and William Stunkard. Donald Smith, a sophomore, was also initiated. PITTSBURGH SALE

Don McKnight of the East Brook F. F. A. has entered a pig in the annual 4-H and Vocational Hog Round-Up and sale held at the Pittsburgh Livestock Yards this week. The pigs are judged upon their condition and the management practices employed in raising them and then they are graded according to weight and sold. This procedure gives the boys first hand knowledge in raising pigs and the marketing procedures used in large arkets.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

At a recent meeting the F. F. A. voted to start a Chapter library and a committee was appointed to make a recommendation of books to buy. The chapter also decided to buy an official F. F. A. scrap-book and membership cards for each person. The new horseshoes arrived and it was voted to hold an F. F. A. horseshoe pitching tournament.

DUMMY STOPS TRAFFIC

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—(INS)—Motorists in Salt Lake City swerved, careened and braked when they caught sight of a man's body sprawled in the middle of the street. Police officers arrived on the scene, at which more than 50 cars had stopped. The "dead man" was a dummy, made of straw-stuffed shirt and paper bag head, topped with a hat.

Some Top Nazis Beginning To Reveal Facts

Accused Men Awaiting Trial Occasionally Tell Some Of Truth

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NUERNBERG, Sept. 28.—Some of the top Nazis awaiting trial in the Nuremberg prison have quit lying all the time and occasionally "are telling the truth."

Racket-busting, Brooklyn attorney, Col. John H. Amen made that discretion today and indicated even the "little truth" he has learned is worth the many hours and days of questioning and cross-questioning of the accused war criminals.

Col. Amen, Chief of Justice Robert H. Jackson's team of interrogators says the once arrogant Nazis are beginning to let their hair down and are spilling the true facts.

Getting Somewhere

"We're really getting somewhere when these birds quit stalling," he said.

I asked him if field Marshal Hermann Goering of Joachim Von Ribbentrop were clever liars or stallers. He replied:

"They're just the same as the gangsters we know back home. We know when they are lying. It's all part of the game."

The strict routine and solitary confinement in bare cells at Nuernberk has been a jolt after the easier weeks in the spacious Monsdorf hotels in Luxembourg. There the grim reality of life and death trials seemed somewhat remote.

But here, every prisoner seems fully aware of the gravity of his case.

In the Nuernberg interrogation room there is no time for hair-splitting decisions or dilatory answers.

Everything is to the point and the prisoner who lies today knows, from past experience, that tomorrow he will probably be confronted with the contradicting evidence one of his former pals deliberately or unwittingly provided during similar questioning.

Von Ribbentrop blandly recalls that he was aware well in advance of Hitler's plan to sieze Austria.

For weeks he suffered from "loss of memory" but when he was finally convinced that Japan was gone, just like the other Axis powers, he suddenly found his memory and told a lot of things which will make good reading in the history books after the trials are completed.

Better Memory

The Dutch tyrant and one-time Austrian fifth columnist, Arthur Seyssinquart, has had a much better memory than Ribbentrop and many of the others from the very beginning.

He admits in Holland he carried out the orders laid down before him by Hitler and Ribbentrop with unfailing regularity. And he innocently adds:

"Just ask Von Ribbentrop if it isn't so!"

Old Franz Von Papen, smooth diplomat of the old school, looks at things in a far more realistic manner. He is the only one so far who has availed himself of the services of a chaplain.

Hans Frank, rough-house Nazi governor of Poland, is the champion Bible reader.

Robert Ley, the frog-eyed and Bull-necked taskmaster of German labor in the Hitler days, likes to bemoan his pains and his various illnesses more than answering intelligent questions.

"Frankly, I can get along without alcohol," he says wryly, "but not without women."

Australia has about 28,000 miles of railways.

B'nai B'rith To Hear Arthur Gaeth

Traveler-Commentator Will Address Open Meeting On Wednesday, October 3

B'nai B'rith organization is having an open meeting, at which time the public will have the opportunity to hear Arthur Gaeth, well-known radio commentator, on Wednesday evening, October 3.

Mr. Gaeth will speak at Temple Israel at 8:30 o'clock and his subject will pertain to the affairs of the post-war period. Mr. Gaeth has spoken to large audiences before and his subjects have been well-received heretofore. On October 10 he will leave for Europe where he expects to travel for at least six months.

Philip Wiener is the program chairman for the meeting.

Three Musketeers Wait For Fourth Yank For Return

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Three musketeers of the Pacific met partial defeat today, but they were not too angry—they're going home.

Corp. Leroy Edwards of Elk City, Okla., and Corp. Lloyd K. Maxwell of Pine Bluffs, Ark. refused to return to the United States when they had enough points for discharge.

They wanted to wait for a buddy, Corp. Leon F. Breese of Nowata, Okla., whose 72 points were insufficient.

The trio came overseas together two years ago and wanted to return together.

Despite warnings that they might not make it all if they stuck round, they waited and Breese achieved enough points.

But then the trio decided to wait for a fourth buddy, Corp. Carol G. Hacker of St. Louis, Mo., who was way low on points.

It was then that officers threw up their hands and told Edwards, Maxwell and Breese they would have to go home now.

Silver Star

Mrs. Margaret K. Sharol of R. D. 6, New Castle, received the Silver Star Medal awarded her husband, Sergeant Teddy Sharol, for gallantry in action.

"On April 16, 1945, near Erlangen, Germany," the citation reads, "Sergeant Sharol, calling upon his squad to follow him, left the cover of an embankment and started walking up a hill toward an enemy platoon which was in position just beyond the crest about fifty yards away.

"Despite small arms fire that barely missed him and made his men hesitate to follow, Sergeant Sharol continued to the hill crest.

"As he lifted his rifle, a burst of hostile machine pistol fire caught him in both legs, knocking him to the ground.

"With his blood draining rapidly, Sergeant Sharol raised himself up and motioned his squad to advance.

"Inspired by his bravery, his men attacked and, together with other units of the platoon, forced the enemy to withdraw.

"Sergeant Sharol died shortly of his wounds."

Bronze Star

The Bronze Star Medal awarded Corporal Edward A. Pugh was presented to his wife, Mrs. Edna J. Pugh, of 406 Loop street, Ellwood City.

According to the citation which accompanied this decoration, the award was made for heroic service in France, Luxembourg, and Germany during the period August 6, 1944 to March 9, 1945 when Corporal Pugh demonstrated superior attention to duty, outstanding courage, and great technical ability as a radio-telephone operator.

Woman Passenger In Auto Killed

Eleven Others Injured In Two Auto Accidents In Pittsburgh Thursday

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—(INS)—A woman was killed and 11 other persons were injured in Pittsburgh today in two automobile accidents only a few minutes apart.

The dead woman was Mrs. Laverne Wilkes, 30, Pittsburgh, wife of an overseas service man. She died of a fractured skull.

Mrs. Wilkes was riding in an automobile driven by a sailor, Joseph Sarnowski, Heidelberg, which crashed into a steel girder on Pittsburgh's northside. Three others in the car were slightly injured.

The sixth victim, Mrs. Mary Obert of Newton, also the wife of a service man, was reported in a serious condition in St. Joseph's hospital. She suffered a fractured skull.

In the second accident, three soldiers, two sailors and an ex-soldier were injured when their car crashed into a pole near Glenshaw, police said.

WHEN TO SMOKE

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—(INS)—Cigaret smokers, themselves, could manage to whip their current shortage problem by following the advice of a Pennsylvania State college tobacco expert and learn just when to smoke to obtain the best advantage and most enjoyment. Dr. D. E. Haley says the best time to "draw on the weed" is after meals.

"QUEENS" TO GO BACK TO NORMAL SERVICE IN YEAR

LONDON—(INS)—Britain's luxury liners, the Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth, will probably be ready for normal passenger service next summer. Transport of all American troops returning to the United States or going to the Pacific is expected to be completed by the end of next May. The luxury ships will then be free to make "peace" trips between Britain and the United States.

Setting-Up Conference At Y.W.C.A.

Committee Members And Club Officers Discuss "Active Good Will" At Dinner

Fall Setting-Up conference for Y. W. C. A. committee members and Y. W. club officers was held Thursday evening in the Y. W. C. A. The meeting opened with a tureen dinner and was followed by discussion on the conference theme, "Active Good Will To Combat Intolerance".

Discussion Groups

Discussion groups found the theme both provocative and practical. Groups led by Mrs. Mont Alley, Miss Genevieve Riddle, Mrs. Walter Trimble, and Miss Marion Ochampaugh with Miss Mary Van Divort, Mrs. Ira Ramsey, Miss Alice Sterling and Mrs. R. A. Williams as assistant leader centered their discussions around how the Y. W. C. A. can create active good will, how leaders can be trained for this work, how the Y. W. C. A. economic and international public affairs program can create good will in inter-racial practices.

Mrs. Glenn Throop was program chairman of the conference and Mrs. Earl Smith, co-chairman. Mrs. Charles Jaquish, Y. W. C. A. president, presided.

Board members acted as hostesses at the various tables set in the green room where Miss Nancy J. Bechtol and Ne-Ca-Hi Girl Reserves were in charge. Mrs. Blanche Dillard, Mrs. Henry Engs, Miss Lillian Hartman, and Miss Mary Tabisz were the dinner committee.

Dinner Highlight

Highlight of the dinner program was the playing of two piano solos by Miss Alice Gillespie, student at Oberlin Conservatory of Music, "Lento" by Cyril Scott and "El Torero" by Vallejo.

An impressive worship service was led by Mrs. Walter Reneker. Mrs. William J. Caldwell led group singing with Miss Betty Robinson, new music teacher at Union high school, at the piano.

Group games in the auditorium, led by Miss Helen Hazen, furnished entertainment for a short period.

Summaries of the conclusion of the four discussion groups were as follows: Mrs. Alley's group, that active good will, not sentimentalism, is needed, that intolerance breeds hate and destruction, equality of opportunity should be stressed. Mrs. Trimble's group, the Y. W. C. A. has been a pioneer in creating active good will urge constructive and independent thinking; Miss Riddle's group, practice good will for prejudice disappears with knowledge, learn by reading; Miss Ochampaugh's group, friendliness promotes friendliness, leaders should be understanding, spiritual-minded, and broad-minded.

Thirteen Receive High Scout Awards At Court Thursday

Scoutmaster J. Arthur Turek Receives Eagle Award Along With Boy Scouts At Ceremony

Twelve Boy Scouts and one scoutmaster received some of the highest scouting awards at the fall Court of Honor in the Senior High school Thursday evening. Three troop leader warrants were also given out, under the supervision of Joseph A. Hartman, chairman of the court.

Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the Congregational church, addressed the group on the subject of "What Makes a Man", after the presentation of awards.

Scoutmaster Wins Award

The scoutmaster who received the Eagle award was J. Arthur Turek, leader of troop 9 and nature director at the Boy Scout camp during the summer. Mr. Turek, who also holds the Scoutmaster's Key, highest award a scoutmaster can receive, is principal of Sunny avenue school in Union township. Andrew Turek, 75-year old father of the scoutmaster, had the honor of pinning the Eagle on his son.

Theodore Castele, Jr., of troop 18 received the award of Eagle with Silver Palm, presented by A. H. Meller, a member of the executive board. Troop leaders warrants were presented by H. I. Lamphier, scoutmaster of troop 5, to Edward Miller, junior assistant scoutmaster of troop 55; John Coles, junior assistant scoutmaster of 55; and Edward McSparren, senior patrol leader of 37.

Star Awards

Star awards were conferred by Dr. J. Wesley Post, chairman of the New Castle district, to Harvey Hickey of Troop 2; John Hickey, 5; Thomas Mark Baatz, 5; Matthew Missey, 6; Glenn Hedrick, 9; Robert McSparren, 37; and Donald R. Morgan, 1(43).

The next Court of Honor for Star, Life, and Eagle awards will be in December. First and second class badges are now awarded at individual troop ceremonies. Thursday evening's Court closed with the scout oath led by the two Eagle scouts, J. Arthur Turek and Edward Miller.

David Jewett, who was to become a Life Scout at the ceremony, was unable to be present and will receive his award later.

Modification Of Full Employment Bill Is Considered

All-Out Commitment For Job-Making Public Works Is Being Debated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28—(INS)—Critics of the administration's full employment bill conferred today on whether to accept the measure's all-out commitment for such job-making public works "as may be needed" if it is modified to provide that they be "consistent" with the nation's finances.

Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, said he doubts if his group will accept the compromise proposal put forth by Sen. Hatch (D) N. M. But he said he will confer with Sen. Radcliffe (D) Md., and others who have opposed the bill.

Amendment Beaten

Taft added that "this compromise proposal shows that the backers of the administration bill know they are beaten on this amendment."

Taft and Radcliffe wanted to eliminate entirely the all-out commitment by the Federal government for such public works "as may be needed." Their amendment would call for a program—"consistent with other obligations" of the government—of public works so planned that they could be speeded up or retarded as the job situation changed.

The Hatch compromise retains the "as may be needed" phrase along with other words of the administration provision, while including also the Taft-Radcliffe reservation that the program must "be consistent with other obligations" of the government.

Administration senators also conferred with Sen. Wagner (D) N. Y. banking committee chairman, who was reported to be "rather favorable" to the Hatch compromise.

Sen. Millikin (R) Colo., one of the seven voting against the administration bill in the banking committee, said that "on the surface, it looks acceptable."

Graduates From High School In Internment Camp

Begins Her College Career In Another—Record Of Pittsburgh Girl

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Betsy McCreary, 20, graduated from high school in one Japanese internment camp and began her college career in another.

Betsy was liberated in February from the San Tomas internment camp after three years and at camp John Hay, Baguio. She graduated from high school while an internee at Baguio and later began her college training at San Tomas. She is now a student at the University of Pittsburgh.

Betsy was separated from her family for a year and eight months, but was reunited with her parents, a sister and brother when she was transferred from Baguio to San Tomas.

In the fall of 1941, Betsy was a senior in the Grent Prep school at Baguio. Her parents were on the Island of Panay where her father was receiver of a railroad. On December 27, 1941, the Japs came to Baguio and took over the school.

"They told us not to be scared but to hand over any weapons we might have or we would be shot," Miss McCready said.

"The next day they led us away without telling us where we were going. We walked two miles to Camp John Hay where we occupied the same barracks in which Japs were interned a few weeks before," she recalled.

"They told us it was quite fitting that we should use these same barracks. They were in bad shape.

When Betsy learned her family was interned at San Tomas, she asked to be transferred there. The request was granted. She said the food was "sketchier" at John Hay than at San Tomas.

Betsy was born in New York but has since lived in two hemispheres and on three continents.

"The people there just ignore us," he writes, "and it is just one big mess of ruins... it is a pretty country but sure is torn up."

Lt. Kegarise was first at Nadzab, New Guinea, the Biak, Dutch East Indies, and Morator, Moluccas Islands, and is now on Leyte. "We fly to Manila and have been there quite a few times," he says. He has been to Okinawa and Iwo Jima twice.

GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scout Leaders Needed

Mrs. Paul Forcey, Scout Commissioner in New Castle, urges that women consider the possibilities of becoming Scout leaders. Many women, who have been active doing war work either in industry or other services, find themselves with time to spare now and these are the women to whom the appeal is directed. Scouting is a post war activity as it is the girl of today who will be the woman of tomorrow and to feel that one has had a share, even tho it be small, in shaping the character of these girls will be a satisfaction long remembered.

The need for leaders is urgent and immediate, so if you can spare one evening a week to work with girls at their troop meetings get in touch with the Girl Scout office, Greer Bldg., New Castle. To like to work with girl is the only requirement as training will be given to new leaders.

There are 715 girl scouts in New Castle and yet there are many more waiting to get into troops. These girls must wait until there are vacancies in some of the troops or until new troops are formed. New troops will be formed immediately if leaders can be found. The outdoor activities appeal to every girl, add to this the many interesting indoor programs and one can readily see why so many girls like scouting. Scouting keeps a leader on her toes and is one way retaining the view point and enthusiasm of youth.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Attorney General Tom C. Clark has set up light housekeeping in his Justice Department offices with the installation of a lush green, ultra-private dining room and a swoony, all-electric kitchen.

Clark, however, has nothing in his suite to match the swank of the fabulous, reputedly blue marble and gold bathtub which interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes built into his office some seven years ago.

Clark's new home from home is anroe comparable in size and scope with the gleaming aluminum kitchen and private dining room which WPB biggies whipped together with reportedly little priority trouble—so that their celery chomping would be done in private.

Cheerful Dining Room

The attorney general has set up for himself a cheerful, green and white dining room papered with a lime and white leaf figure. An attractive, built-in Dutch cupboard is papered like the walls.

The kitchen features a large, new "family size" refrigerator and a shining new electric range sporting all the gadgets except radar.

The cabinets are tricky S-shaped shelves are done in two tones of green. The cabinets have natural wood handles.

Secretary of War Robert Patterson inherits a similar set-up from ex-Secretary Henry L. Stimson. A small but modern kitchen presided over by army cooks and mess boys preserves the secretary from hunger pangs at lunch-time.

For Visiting Officials

The war secretary also has a large private dining-room which was used by Stimson during the war primarily for luncheon conferences and luncheons for visiting officials.

Postmaster General Robert Hannegan recently had his office fitted with a small kitchen, which, he explained, he planned to use to throw together hasty lunches when he was too busy to leave his desk.

Labor Secretary Lewis Schwellenbach however, patronizes the cafeteria-style dining room in the basement of the Labor Department building which is set aside for the use of officials.

Schwellenbach totes his own tray. He has been known to entertain guests there. The dining room differs from the regular cafeteria only in that it has skimpy blue chintz drapes.

The trend of the times would seem to indicate that a new type of kitchen cabinet is in the making with modern-type ventilators in the smoke-filled rooms.

Tell How Accused Australian Was Captured By Yanks

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Details of the recent arrest of Joan Holland, accused Australian war criminal, were disclosed today in Yokohama.

American authorities revealed that three eighth army counter-intelligence men flew 600 miles to Hokkaido in a transport plane with a jeep as part of the cargo and took Holland into custody, thus thwarting his plan to flee to China.

Holland was arrested in the city of Sapporo while he was being shaved by a lady barber.

A captain, a lieutenant and a sergeant made the trip weeks before the allies were scheduled to occupy Hokkaido and long before Holland thought it necessary to flee.

The counter-intelligence men placed Holland in the Yokohama war criminal stockade only 36 hours after they had taken off on their mission.

The identity of the trio was not revealed due to the secret nature of their work.

FILLS THE BILL

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(INS)—The Memphis Chicks of the Southern league tried 16 players in an effort to plug a gap at second base, and with very little success. The army supplied the 17th man—Hub Freeman—and he's been playing a fine defensive game and has been pounding the ball at a gait that keeps him up with the leaders.

Byrnes To Face Many Problems

Secretary Of State To Confront Array Of Tasks On Return To Washington

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28—(INS)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is expected to face an array of problems quite as vexing as those he met in London following his return next week to the United States.

Some of the groundwork has been done in his absence by acting Secretary Dean Acheson and other assistants to whom he has delegated the task of working up plans. But in these he will have to give his final approval. Other problems arise from the world situation to which he has been unable to give his time while at the foreign ministers' meeting.

These are his chief tasks:

1. Reorganizing the state department under his own team of new appointees on a scale to make it capable of new duties far surpassing any imposed on it before.

2. Aid in setting up the machinery for extended control over the Far East to replace the hastily prepared plan under which Gen. Douglas MacArthur is now operating.

3. Examining the Latin-American situation, particularly in view of the repressive measures taken at home by the Argentine government.

For most of this work, Byrnes will have little more than two weeks at most. It may be less for he is to attend the Inter-American Conference of Foreign Ministers in Rio de Janeiro on October 20.

Peace Time Duty

As now constructed, the state department has been given the peacetime responsibility for maintaining the foreign propaganda and publicity work of the office of war information and the co-ordinator of inter-American affairs.

Moreover, it will have charge of the foreign intelligence work of the office of strategic services which is to be under Col. Alfred McCormack. He is the New York lawyer who is credited with bringing the army's intelligence service up-to-date.

To these duties President Truman added much of the work of the foreign economic administration which is being dissolved.

Until the reorganization is completed the work of the department is expected to be seriously curtailed. Those who do not know whether they will be retained or not are disinclined to make many commitments.

Some Political Prisoners Freed In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Argentina's military regime relented a little today and released a few of the outstanding newspaper editors and diplomats who had been thrown into prison without cause in Wednesday night's reign of terror.

Vice President Col. Juan Peron personally freed Alberto Gainza Paz, publisher of La Prensa; Luis Mitre, editor of La Nacion; Angel Bohigas, managing editor of the same paper, and Saavedra Lamas, former Argentine foreign minister and Nobel Peace prize-winner.

The editors of Critica and La Razon remained in jail along with most members of their staffs.

Orders Release

Peron also ordered the release of Jorge Mitre, former editor of La Nacion, and Ernesto Boatti, leader of the Radical party.

Although the jails were filled to overflowing, federal police continued to make wholesale arrests of anyone accused of opposing the Farrell-Peron government.

Embassies were crowded with person seeking protection and escape from the heavily-armed arresting parties which were constantly racing about the city.

The U. S. embassy, which does not grant sanctuary, was forced to turn away scores of Argentinians who sought protection.

Public Warned On Poliomyelitis

Chairman Hanna Of Lawrence County Committee On Infantile Paralysis Urges Early Care

With two cases of poliomyelitis reported from Lawrence county this week, Chairman William R. Hanna of the Lawrence county branch of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis urges the public to be on the alert and to make early diagnosis, in order to avert any possibilities of an epidemic in this locality.

The Lawrence county branch has facilities for taking care of those afflicted, two local nurses, Mrs. Harold Dunlap and Miss Grace Ackerman having taken instruction in the special care of these cases. Hospital care is also available.

The illness at the first stage is comparatively mild and much the same as many other infectious diseases. So that where there is any suspicion in the mind of the parent, a physician should be consulted at once. Tremor or trembling of the hands and other parts of the body, and pain and stiffness in the neck and back, are important and alarming symptoms. Sometimes the patient cannot put his chin on his chest or his head between his knees.

The foundation has funds available for assisting those without means, and they should get in touch with Postmaster Hanna, chairman of the Lawrence county branch, if help is needed.

Make Awards In 4-H Pig Roundup At Pittsburgh

Marion Martin Of Lawrence County Wins Only Award For This Locality

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28—(INS)—Westmoreland county today held eight of the 16 prizes in the sixth annual western Pennsylvania 4-H pig-round-up.

Gold medals also went to Dean Dewitt, Hazel Muir and William Lazear, of Westmoreland county. The Lazear youth, with four pigs, entered, won a $5 award given by the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce.

Silver medals went to Paul Hartley and Laura and Darwin Herring, of Fayette county; Charles Stanislaw, of Westmoreland county, and Arden Saul, of Mercer county.

The roundup was held at the Pittsburgh joint stock yards.

Guidance Committees For Schools Of City

Implementing the suggestions made by Mary Pane Wyland, guidance specialist of Penn State college, who conferred with teachers and principals of the New Castle schools this week, guidance committees have been set up and a program is being developed for use in the city schools.

"A guidance committee has been set up for the elementary schools, one each for the junior and senior high schools and an executive committee to act as a clearing committee," said Superintendent Frank L. Burton today. "Through these committees we hope to make guidance a moving force in the school system to the end that boys and girls may be better equipped to select higher educational studies or work in the world."

U. S. Airmen Sink Jap Battleship On Suicide Mission

TOKYO, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Japan's giant battleship Yamoto was on a suicide mission when American airmen sank her off Kyushu April 24, a Japanese staff officer told the newspaper Asahi today.

The officer said the "unsinkable" 45,000 ton battleship was steaming toward Okinawa with orders to run aground at the southern end of the island and use its great batteries as artillery support for counter-attacks by Jap infantry against U. S. Tenth Army lines.

The Japanese believed that the Yamoto grounded would have fire power equal to a whole division of artillery.

The Yamoto was carrying Jap Fleet Commander in Chief Vice Admiral Seiichi Ito and was screened by two cruisers and six destroyers when caught off southern Kyushu at 1 a. m. April 24 by American carrier airmen.

New Record For Rain In September

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—(INS)—September has been a topsy-turvy month—that is, as far as the weatherman is concerned.

Forecaster W. S. Brotzman reported that during the month a new high record in rainfall was noted—9.97 inches, or .46 of an inch above the previous high recorded in July, 1887.

As for heat—the thermometer hit 90 during September, a bit unusual for this time of year, but didn't break a record.

What's more, there's a good chance that the rain record will go still higher, as Brotzman predicted occasional showers and thunderstorms for today.

Lancaster Once State Capitol

Construction Of Capitol Building At Harrisburg Was Authorized In 1816

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Few Pennsylvanians realize that Lancaster was the capital of the state from 1799 to 1812. . . The capital of Pennsylvania's "provincial government" was located at Philadelphia from 1683 to 1810 . . . The construction of a capitol building at Harirsburg was authorized in 1816 and five years later the General Assembly convened for the first time in the new building . . . The main capitol building was destroyed by fire February 2, 1897.

An act approved by the Assembly in April, 1897, authorized the construction of the present building which was dedicated by President Theodore Roosevelt October 4, 1906 . . . Designed in the classic style adapted from Italian Renaissance architecture, the main building is 520 fet long and 254 feet wide . . . It covers two acres of ground, is one-half mile in circumference and contains 475 rooms . . . The exterior is of Vermont granite and rises five floors above the main floor . . . State records estimated that the construction cost of the main building was $10,073,174.

Deputy Secretary of Property and Supplies Frank E. Hoffman has reported that 171 of approximately 8,000 state employes serving in the armed forces have died in battle . . . The names of the employes in the services have ben placed on placards displayed in the rotunda of the main capitol building.

The State Health Department has reminded Pennsylvanians that a new law provides for the payment of $600 a year to chronic typhoid fever carriers unable to work . . . "This act will obviate instances of actual distress such as have occurred in the past," a spokesman said . . . "It will also facilitate supervision of typhoid carriers since, in view of their compensation they will not be careless or deliberate in changing their address without notifying the department."

The Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police association has reported in its bi-monthly bulletin that only 41 of 65 municipalities covered in a survey purchase uniforms for patrolmen . . . Chiefs of the remaining 24 communities indicated that police officers provided their own uniforms, but in eight of these municipalitits the men were given a uniform allowance.

McKeesport Bandits Seize $3,700, Use Stolen Car To Flee

McKEESPORT, Pa., Sept. 28.—(INS).—Western Pennsylvania police today sought two armed bandits who robber a McKeesport real estate office of $3,700 and fled in a stolen automobile.

The bandits, police said, entered the offices of J. G. Topley just before closing time yesterday and at the points of revolvers held up Topley and his wife.

Reaching into the safe, one of the bandits scooped up the bills while the second holdup man "covered" the couple.

The two bandits then withdrew from the real estate office, waited calmly while a red traffic light changed to green, and jumped into the escape car. An accomplice was at the wheel of the car.

Police said the car was stolen an hour before from L. F. Heinrich, of Pittsburgh.

Claims Of Jobless Cause Increase In Bureau Personnel

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—(INS)—The department of labor and industry reported today a 66 per cent personnel increase in the bureau of employment and unemployment compensation during the past 45 days.

Deputy Secretary Frank K. Boal said employes had been placed in three working shifts, including a night force, in order to handle the "tremendous" increase in claims since V-J day.

The bureau has received as many as 18,000 claims a day during the past week compared with 3,000 a week during the war, he explained.

Service Division Fish Fry And Smoker

General Chairman Albert B. Street announced today that arrangements have been completed for a general service division business meeting on next Friday evening, October 5, in The Cathedral. Plans for the coming fall reunion will be discussed, and jewels will be presented.

Members of the last June class and reunion committee members will be guests on the occasion.

The event will be in the nature of a fish fry and smoker.

About 17,000 farm dwellers are killed in accidents yearly.

VICTORY PLATE

LANCASTER, O.—(INS)—Harold Dambaugh of Lancaster, is believed to be the only person in the nation to hold what his friends choose to call a "victory auto license tag". The number on his tag is "V-5245" which he proudly claims meant that World War II would end on the second day of the ninth month of 1945.

GREEN CAPS BACK

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—(INS)—Victory over Japan and return to the peacetime way of living means something a little different to freshmen at the University of Utah. With the lifting of wartime restrictions the traditional green cap will be back to set the young collegiates off from the rest of the student body.

Pennant Fights Will End Sunday, 1945 Great Year

Chicago Cubs And Detroit Tigers Will Probably Fight It Out In Series

RULERS NEED TO TIGHTEN UP LAWS

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—In the baseball regulations there are a lot of loose ends flopping about that should be gathered up by the rulers of the game and tied together in a neat bunch with some semblance of understanding and order. With these pennant races nudging down toward Sunday's finish of the season there are possibilities for all sorts of complications simply because baseball law is administered too often through agreements.

They may end one of the major league races in a deadlock which would necessitate a playoff. The regulations call for three games, in the event the Tigers wind up in a snarl with the ilde Senators, but the word is out that everybody probably would compromise on a single game so as to get the world series started on time.

Strange Situation

And another thing, you have a strange situation in which the home club has virtually all the say in whether rained-out games will be rescheduled for an open date, which brings on the present precarious set-up at Detroit. The management has said they won't take advantage of the weather to win, if such advantage is to be had. They want to win or lose out on the playing field.

But the time might come when a club will decide to get that pennant at any cost and shuffle things around to suit itself. There should be a clear-cut rule on that, and one that takes all this out of the hands of the management.

Could Lay Down

Another dangerous situation exists in the races for first division berths behind the pennant winners. These other clubs also get a share of the world series money and without any dishonesty being involved could let down in late games with a contender which has the park with the biggest seating capacity.

It might be a psychological thing, no matter how hard the team fighting for third place might try to fight against easing up.

Other than all that, this has been a notable baseball season, one which has seen the predicted close race in the American league but an unpredicted close one in the National. Most observers thought the Cardinals would win in a romp.

One Sweet Race

They still look like the best late season team, but regardless of that, the National league should again win the world series from the way it looks now, subject to change without notice. The American doesn't seem to have its old time class any more.

One certainty is that this has been a tremendous season for our lyed-in-the-silk baseball fans. What could be sweeter than having four clubs in the pennant races and some of the others close up most of the way. Under the circumstances it is almost impossible for your favorite club to be out of it. It is almost like the Shaughnessy playoffs. Everybody has a hand in it.

The first all-steel ice skates were invented in 1850.

Touch Football At Westminster

Regular Grid Sport Will Not Be Resumed For Another Year At College

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 28.—Touch football returns as the No. 1 attraction on the fall sports calendar at Westminster college.

It will have to substitute for football another year because all hope for the return of the grid sport had to be abandoned. Coach Grover C. Washabaugh reports that, although more male students are now in school, district colleges have thought it wise to wait another year.

A varsity team will compete with district aggregations on a home and home basis. The Titans are expected to field a strong team with three men back from last year's undefeated team.

Touch football also heads the intramural program. The student league will open Monday afternoon and will consist of a Sig Ep frat team and two freshman squads. The champions will be pitted against a faculty squad at the close of the season.

Ellwood Defeats Washington 26-6

Ellwood Junior High Powerhouse Steamrolls Washington, M. Altman Injures Leg

(Special To The News)

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Ellwood City Junior High football team began its 1945 season last night under the lights at Lincoln field by steamrolling an inexperienced George Washington Junior High team from New Castle 26 to 6.

Ellwood had plenty of speed in the backfield and a big powerful line, that scored over Washington with apparent ease. Ellwood's right half Watterson bulled his way over for two touchdowns, and O'Brien and Miller each made a touchdown for Ellwood. J. Altman ran about 15 yards to register the only Washington tally.

M. Altman Injures Leg

Washington suffered an unfortunate break in the game, their star right half Mendell Altman suffered a severe leg injury. An X-ray will be taken to determine the extent of the injury. Altman was removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital in New Castle for treatment.

Ellwood will play Ambridge Junior High at Ellwood next Thursday and Washington will battle Sharon at Washington next Thursday.

HERE is a communication with which the entire sports staff of The New Castle News agree. The communicant believes some people are prone to forget too soon the hardships and supreme sacrifices made by men and women who were and yet are in uniform:

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25

"Sports Editor, The News:

"Now that the war is over and sports will once more assume a prominent place in the news, why not pause to pay tribute to those Lawrence County athletes who gave their lives for this peace? These boys are too soon forgotten except by those who loved them best, so why not give them a last acknowledgment on your sports page?

"I'm thinking, primarily of my brother, A. C. James S. Moses, USNR, who lost his life on July 28, 1944, in a Texas plane crash. He wasn't spectacular in his playing, nor did he make any long touchdown runs or last minute winning baskets, but he was a faithful member of the Bessemer high school teams of 1936-40 and of the Bessemer Baseball club; he gave his time and effort for his love of sports just as he gave his time, effort and his life for his love of country.

"(signed) His sister,
Miriam V. Moses, Y 3-c,
Wave Quarters D

Washington, 16, D. C.

The writer and other members of The News sports staff have during war years published every item they could obtain concerning athletes, prominent or not so flashy, yet in or now out of uniform. In fact, it has been the policy of the sports staff to "boil down" or entirely "ditch" some ordinary sport items in order to tell where "John," "Joe," "Mary" or "Alice" are and what they are doing in service. Everybody on The News either has a member of his family or relatives in armed services so, when grieving news has arrived, they, too, felt grieved because war, like lightning, is apt to strike anywhere. Miss Moses can remain assured that her brother, James, has not been forgotten. Neither have other boys who made the supreme sacrifice or underwent trials that we, at home, escaped, thanks to them.

Pete Adams, former local athlete is now an air force captain and is in the Pacific. His brother, Sergeant George (Pep) is in the E. T. O. . . . Met Jim McGivern and the Harlan brothers, First Lieut. Lou and Bill yesterday. . . . Former Welterweight Boxer Chuck Arkett, now a Marine pfc, writes Here & There from Okinawa and believes he will soon be in Nippon. He says the Marines won the award for outstanding appearance in a recent parade at Pearl Harbor after which Chuck et. al. shipped out for Guam, Iwo Jima and finally Okinawa. . . . Warrant Officer Bill Lynch, Marines, was home on a short pass from a Great Lakes hospital where he is undergoing treatment. . . . W. H. Sammis, president of the Pennsylvania-Ohio Company, with headquarters at Akron, is a veteran of the Navy, World War I. He attended a company's directors' meeting here Wednesday and inquired about local boys with whom he is acquainted and are now in service.

Being that Fritzie Zivic has been transferred to Newark air base, possibility is he may get another shot in The Garden, Gotham . . . Dixie Walker, Dodgers, will take a group of major leaguers on a barnstorming tour of Southern Association cities as soon as the season ends. . . . Trevor Wiliams, temporary policeman, spent 34 months overseas. . . . Louisiana State has an unusual athlete in Jim Cason. He hurls passes right handed but boots with his right. In baseball he bats southpaw, plays golf left handed, tennis right and when he uses a pen uses his left. . . . Freddy Steele, former middleweight boring champ, received $500 a week for his role as sergeant in the Ernie Pyle movie, according to Arch Ward, Chi-Trib. . . . Having seen the picture we'll have to clean our spectacles because of all people, we didn't recognize the ex-fighter as the "sarge".

Chandler Sets Series Rules

Commissioner Announces Starting Time Of Games And Eligibility Rules

UMPS WILL BE PICKED OCTOBER 1

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler Thursday announced a schedule of rules for the 1945 world series, opening Wednesday, and listed players eligible to participate.

As the Chandler announcement was issued, the Chicago Cubs were a game and a half in front of the St. Louis Cardinals, in the National League, and Detroit, with a one-game lead over Washington in the American, had cinched at least a tie.

If the series is between Detroit and either Chicago or St. Louis, the first three games will be in Detroit October 3, 4 and 5. The last four—or as many as are needed to give one club four victories—will be October 6, 7, 8 and 10.

Umps Not Chosen

Should Washington manage to win the American League flag, the opening games will be in the Senators' home park, October 3, 4 and 5, but the last four would be in Chicago or St. Louis October 7, 8, 9 and 11.

All games will begin at 1:30 p. m. FT, in Detroit or Washington, and at 1:30 p. m. CT in whichever National League city wins the pennant.

Should it be necessary to play off a tie, it will be done the day following scheduled game 7, at the same park where game 7 was played.

Umpires for the series will be named October 1, Chandler said.

The eligible players include 14 men reinstated from the national defense list. They became automatically eligible for the series even though some of them had been back in the league only a few weeks.

Altoona Tickets On Sale October 4

Robert M. Mills, ticket manager at New Castle High, announced today that tickets for the New Castle-Altoona game on Saturday, October 6, would go on sale at the Sporting Goods store on Thursday, Octoger 4, at 10 a. m.

As was announced in August the holders of season tickets will get first chance at the tickets for the out-of-town games. In order to buy tickets for the Altoona game you must bring your season ticket book to the store and one ticket will be issued for each book presented.

Friday, October 5, you may purchase tickets for the Altoona game without a season ticket book, Mills announced. This same procedure will be followed for the game at Clairton on October 26.

Beagle Trials Here Saturday

Drawings will be held at eight a. m. Saturday for the beagle trials during the day according to Harry Brinton. The trials will be conducted by the Shenango Valley Beagle club at their training area along Highland Heights highway. It was anticipated today according to Brinton that several score of the best beagles in this district would be entered.

State Can't Use Ralph Ventresco

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 28 —(INS)—Coach Bob Higgins today said that the services of his star fullback Ralph Ventresco will be lost for the first four games of the season.

The Penn State war veteran, only pre-war regular on the squad, was ruled ineligible because of his low academic standing during his last semester in 1941.

Ventresco, a veteran of five major battles, re-entered college after his discharge from the army in July.

Pitcher Trucks Is Back With Tigers

Former Fireball Pitcher Out Of Service, Starts Getting In Shape

DETROIT, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Virgil Trucks, former Detroit fireballer, has been released from the Navy and may be a surprise starter against the St. Louis Browns on Saturday.

Announcement of Trucks' return was made by Tiger General Manager Jack Zeller who talked with the righthander in Norman, Okla. Trucks said he would join the club today "in shape to pitch".

Manager Steve O'Neill started Catcher Paul Richards for St. Louis immediately to work out with Trucks in a last minute attempt to bolster the fading Tiger mound corps for the two-game series which will decide the pennant.

Tigers And Cubs Assured Of Ties In Pennant Races

Cubs Win Two From Reds As St. Louis Cardinals Drop To Pirates In Night Game

SATURDAY WILL DECIDE FINISH

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The major leagues pennants for 1945 were practically in the bag for Chicago and Detroit today, with each club assured of at least a tie for first place in its respective league.

The Cubs joined the Tigers in this state of affairs yesterday much sooner than expected by beating Cincinnati twice, a few hours before the discouraged St. Louis Cardinals lost their night game to Pittsburgh.

As a result of these whirlwind developments, the situation of the Bruins now is more favorable than that of the Bengals. The Cubs are three full games ahead of the Cards, and each club has three more games to play. One Chicago victory, or one St. Louis defeat, will clinch the National league pennant for the Cubs. If either contender should have a game rained out, the Cubs will win the flag.

Wait Till Saturday

In the American league, however, Detroit must win one of its two remaining games with the St. Louis Browns to avert a play-off Monday with the Washington Senators, who long since have finished their season.

However, neither pennant can be lashed to the mast before Saturday at the earliest, because all three pennant contenders are idle today.

Preacher Roe held the Cardinals to three hits last night in beating them 5 to 2. The Bucs won the game in the very first inning when they knocked Southpaw George Dockins out of the box and scored three runs. Hits by Handley, O'Brien and Barrett featured the rally.

Cubs Win Two

The almost uncanny ability of the Cubs to beat Cincinnati this year again served them in good stead as they took two from the Reds by scores of 3 to 1 and 7 to 4. By winning 21 out of 22 from the Rhinelanders this season, they tied a major league record. And incidentally they set a new mark for both circuits by sweeping 19 double-headers this year.

In the only other game of the day, Charley Ruffing personally conducted the New York Yankees to an 8 to 1 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics. Rufus the Red held the A's to six hits and helped win his own game with a three-run homer.

Tommy Blackwell Breaks Right Leg

Ben Franklin High Second Stringer Halfback Suffers Fracture In Scrimmage

Tommy Blackwell, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Blackwell, of 311½ Preston avenue, halfback on the Ben Franklin High reserve team, suffered a broken right leg in scrimmage practice Thursday afternoon.

Young Blackwell was the victim of a block by an opposing player and suffered a break of the big bone just above his knee. The young man will be out for the remainder of the season. He was given immediate medical attention and removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Traditional Foes Ready For Battle

New Castle High Seeking Fourth Win Of Year, Second In Class AA

Kickoff At 8 O'Clock Will Find Stadium Packed For Schoolboy Tussle

New Castle High's undefeated, untied, and unscored on football team, is laying a fine record on the line in the 26th meeting with the big Sharon High Tigers eleven tonight at the stadium. The kickoff at 8 o'clock will find upwards of 10,000 fans in the stands expecting to see a great tussle.

Whether or not New Castle continues on as potential contenders for the Class AA title this year depends a lot on what happens out there on the green carpet of the stadium. New Castle has brushed aside one Class AA foe—Butler High 18 to 0. Sharon stands as a bigger barrier to get over.

Does Veteran Material Count?

New Castle will have the advantage in veteran material. Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will field a team that will have at least five men starting who started at Sharon last year. Sharon will have but two men who began the New Castle game in 1944—Jawzwinski at left end and Fink at left tackle. New Castle counters with—Garberry, Betts, Hill, Panella and Walls. If experience means anything then New Castle has the edge. Sharon has had to rebuild its whole team.

Coach Dave Stewart has had his troubles at Sharon this year—he started with a whole new backfield—he tried the T-formation in the first two games and fumbleitis resulted—Sharon lost the first two to Harbrack and Stowe Township—then Stewart shifted last week to the single wing and zingo—Sharon defeated a tough Scott High of Braddock team 13 to 12. It is safe to assume that Stewart is through with the "T."

Line Must Dig In

The New Castle front wall last week was impregnable to attack. East Hi did not gain a first down the whole second half through Reed, Stewart, Hill, Betts and Tate. Can Sharon crack the New Castle five iron-men, who played every minute of the game last week?

New Castle's powerful linemen must dig in again tonight. They face a tougher bunch of boys than last week. East found New Castle's wall harder to crack than Alcatraz.

Smith at Quarterback

New Castle will start tonight with Walt Smith at quarterback it is indicated. Gene Gribble the soph signal barker injured his leg last week and had to leave the game in the second period. Smith took over and turned in a beautiful job.

The two "scat-backs"—Sammy Flora and Buzzer Pannella are rarin' to go tonight. They will be hard to stop in the open field. Both are light, but hard runners. At the fullback spot Coach Bridenbaugh has two good line crackers ready for action—Billy Walls the colored speedster and big Jim Garberry, the latter started at end in the Sharon game last year.

Expect Large Crowd

New Castle holds a big edge in the Sharon-New Castle series having won 15 games, lost five and tied five to date. Will New Castle continue its mastery over Sharon tonight?—only the playing of the game can answer that $64.00 question.

With good weather indicated the stands will be jammed. Sharon is sending a large delegation of fans and students here for the battle. There has been a quite heavy ticket sale.

Maryland and Massachusetts are the only two states in the Union with capitol buildings dating before the American revolution.

Ted Lewis Cited For Feat Against Japs At War's End

Ex-High Grid Star Had Narrow Escape When B-29s Collided Over Japan; Made Objective

T-Sgt. Theodore A. Lewis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Lewis, of 1316 Wilmington avenue, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, for an outstanding bit of action which the crew of his B-29 participated in. Sgt. Lewis, it will be remembered, was the star fullback on Ne-Ca-Hi's 1943 football squad, and has been doing a swell job for Uncle Sam since being summoned to the colors.

According to the presidential citation, just received by his parents, Sgt. Lewis had a close call when two B-29's collided while near their objective but completed their mission and landed at an alternate field in safety, although badly damaged. He was serving with the 458th Bombardment Squadron, 330th Bombardment group. The citation reads:

"For extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight 8 August, 1945. These individuals were combat crew members of a B-29 aircraft in a devastating daylight strike against the Nakajima-Mushashino aircraft factory in the outskirts of Tokyo, Japan.

Planes Collided

"The long and hazardous over-water mission was flown through diverse and rapidly changing weather conditions with the ever present danger of ditching many miles at sea. Two tropical fronts were penetrated in their flight, but they successfully reached the prescribed landfall. Intense, accurate, and heavy anti-aircraft fire was encountered along the approach and the number three engine was knocked out several minutes before bombs away. They dropped out of formation momentarily, and as they climbed back into position, the formation altered its course. This caused the tail of this crew's crippled aircraft and the open bomb bay doors of the lead plane to collide in mid-air, damaging both beyond repair. By a display of outstanding airmanship and ability, they flew their plane to the side of the formation and about 200 feet below it. They successfully dropped their bombs with the formation, while projectiles from planes above narrowly missed the nose of their B-29. Unable to remain with the formation any longer, they proceeded to land's end alone, and safely landed at an alternate base along the flight route. This outstanding crew has struck repeatedly against high priority targets in the enemy homeland. By their outstanding ability, courage, and resolute devotion to duty, they reflect great credit on themselves and the Army Air Forces."

Lewis served as Central Fire Control Gunner on the big B-29 plane.

Ott-McCarthy To Remain On Jobs

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Both of New York's major league representatives will be under the same management next season—and the Giants will continue to be piloted by Mel Ott for at least another five years.

In tearing up Ott's three-year contract and handing him another one for five years, Horace Stoneham, Giants' president, made good on his oft-repeated statement that "Mel Ott's my manager as long as I live".

Simultaneously, President Larry MacPhail of the New York Yankees sent word from Havana that Joe McCarthy will be held over as manager of the team.

Steelers Add Four New Men

HERSHEY, Pa., Sept. 28.—(INS)—Four more players have been added to the Pittsburgh Steelers football squad to bolster the team and prevent another disastrous defeat such as was handed them by Boston earlier this week.

Two ex-service men, Quarterback Johnny Patrick, former Penn State captain, and Center Si Titus, ex-Holy Cross star, have been signed while Halfback Jack Lowther, of the Detroit Lions, and Sid Tinsley, halfback for the Green Bay Packers, have been bought by President Bert Bell to further strengthen the Steelers.

Detroit Planning For World Series

DETROIT, Sept. 28.—(INS)—The Detroit baseball club went ahead with world series arrangements despite prevailing uncertainty on the outcome of the American League pennant scramble.

General Manager Jack Zeller announced that ticket sales for the series started at 9 a. m. today and continue through Sept. 30.

Sales will be halted on Monday Oct. 1, however in the event of a playoff game with Washington. The game would be played at Briggs Stadium if the Tigers lose their remaining pair of games with St. Louis.

Graziano-Green Battling Tonight

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Rocky Graziano, two time victor over Welterweight Champ Freddie Cochrane, will change blows with Brooklyn-bred Harold Green tonight in Madison Square Garden.

Rocky has lost two decisions in the past to Green, but now has four successive knockouts to his credit.

BEN HOGAN LEADING

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 28.—(INS)—Wiry Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., went into the second round of the $14,333 Portland golf open tournament today seven strokes under par for a 65 over the tough Portland golf club links.

Hogan's score set a new course record for tournament play. But 11 other players also finished under par as bright sunshine and perfect weather conditions oiled their swings.

NEWARK FAVORED TO WIN

MONTREAL, Sept. 28.—(INS)—Boasting two straight victories over Montreal, the Newark Bears today were heavy favorites to win the International league governor's cup series from the Royals.

The Bears scored three runs in the ninth inning last night to win the second game of the series 4 to 3. Bill Rabe's double, and singles by Phil Weintraub, Jerry Crosby and Frank Hiller sparked the rally.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—As important as the pennant races are, we can take a couple of minutes out today in memory of a champion who probably in his own line was the greatest ever produced in America.

When a horse dies, generally you bury him somewhere and forget it.

But when he happens to be one of those legendary figures respected among the best and beloved beyond all others there should be a few lines to the world recalling what he did.

Death Comes At 30

Exterminator lies buried today beside Sun Briar in a plot at Sun Briar Court overlooking the Susquehanna Valley outside Binghamton, N. Y. He died Wednesday in his 30th year, ending finally the great thoroughbred dynasty built by the late Willis Sharpe Kilmer, who was famous for the racing triumvirate composed of Sun Briar, Sun Beau and Exterminator.

It fell to Sun Briar to be known finally as one of the three greatest sires in this country, sharing rank with Man O'War and Sir Gillahad III, but to Exterminator went the greatest applause and a reverence that lasted down to his finish.

He was great in his own sphere because he has stamina to go a route, speed to move over the shorter distances, and he could pack an excess of weight and go on any track. He set records that still stand. In seven years of racing he was out of the money only 16 times while winning an even 59 of an even 100 starts.

Greatest Of All

Man O'War, for instance was a hellion and some say didn't race long enough to prove his worth. He had only two years on the turf, compared with Exterminator's seven and never was quite the horse in many respects that old bones was in winning $252,996 dollars plus many great trophies. No other horse ever won the Saratoga cup four times. He was the greatest by far of all cup horses.

He won the Kentucky Derby in 1918 as an afterthought. Sun Briar was supposed to go in the classic, but tailed off a little and Exterminator, recently purchased by Kilmer for $9,000 and a couple of yearlings, was sent to the post for an easy victory.

The old gelding is survived by Peanuts III, last of a line of ponies who kept him company in his retirement.

He always shared his stall with his mascot, played with them, fed with them and refused to be content without them.

He and they in succession came to be a sort of shrine to many kids and also to horsemen who wanted to look again upon sheerest perfection.

Bids—Fire-Fighting Apparatus

The undersigned will receive sealed bids for the furnishing and delivery of a combination hose body, Booster tank, pump and fire-fighting apparatus, all in accordance with specifications on file in his office and available to bidders.

The body is to be mounted on a 1½ ton chassis and shall have a hose capacity of 1200 feet, 2½ inch double jacket hose.

The pump shall be a centrifugal pump and must comply with the standard requirements of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and shall have a capacity of 500 gallons per minute at 120 pounds per square inch pump pressure.

In examining specifications and submitting bids bidders must understand that said specifications are general and that the Borough Council may, in its discretion, accept a bid in which minor variations appear. It is understood that the Borough of Wampum will retain so much of its present equipment and is not duplicated or supplied in the new equipment and does not form a part of the standard fire-fighting apparatus equipment.

Bidders must accompany their bid with a certified check, payable to the Borough of Wampum, in the amount of at least $200.00, which check shall be forfeited by the bidder if, after the acceptance of his bid, the bidder fails to enter into a written contract and give the bond or bonds required by the Borough Code.

The bid shall be submitted in a sealed envelope plainly marked "Bid—Fire-Fighting Apparatus" and will be received by the undersigned until 8:00 o'clock P. M., on October 9th, 1945, at which time bids will be opened publicly in the Council Room of said Borough at a meeting of Council to be held on that date. The undersigned will receive bids at his office or at his residence on Kay Street, Wampum, Pennsylvania. Bids may be mailed to the undersigned at the risk of the bidder that they will be received on time. BRITISH HAD MIDGET SUBS

BRITAIN'S MIDGET SUBMARINES, with an enviable European war record, also played a part in the war against the Japs in the Pacific. Here is one of the Royal navy's tiny submersibles, which varied in length from 30 to 50 feet and carried crews of three to four men, shown at an Australian base. The subs were unable to travel more than 10 to 12 feet below the surface. Midget subs like this one struck and crippled the German battleship Tirpitz in a Norway hideout. (International)

JOAN LESLIE KEEPS A PROMISE

STAFF SGT. DON F. SAUCKE is shown above as an audience of one in Hollywood Bowl listening to pretty Joan Leslie, who kept a promise for a private concert dedicated to the sergeant. When Sergeant Saucke was in an Army hospital after he had been shot down over France, he penned a note to the movie actress saying her singing in "Rhapsody in Blue" had helped pull him through to recovery. It was then Joan made her promise—to sing for the sergeant alone in Hollywood Bowl. (International)

"This morning the Bolivian government has signed a decree whereby the diplomatic relations between the governments of Bolivia and General Francisco Franco's Spanish government have been severed.

"This step has been taken by the Bolivian government with the only objective of keeping the fight against any totalitarian tendencies that may still remain in the world."

Omission Of Four Words Shorten His Long Prison Term

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—(INS)—The omission of four wards—as a second offender—from a court sentence today shortened the prison term of Charles Miller of Belle Vernon.

Miller was sentenced from 20 to 40 years as a second offender on entering a building. Ten years ago when Judge Thomas M. Marshall passed sentence he forgot to explain he was doubling the sentence and as a result Judge Sara M. Soffel chopped down Miller's stay in Western penitentiary.

Since Miller has served 10 years of the original sentence, he is eligible for parole today except that he must serve four years for a parole violation.

'Jimmy' Stewart Evades $64 Question

ANDREWS FIELD, Md., Sept. 28.—(INS)—Col. "Jimmy" Stewart, whose screen performances won him the Academy Award and whose war service brought him seven decorations, enlisted in the officer reserve today while awaiting his discharge.

The tall, 37-year-old actor-soldier smilingly admitted that he had more grey hairs than when he entered the service, but added mischievously that "honestly, I don't think I need a psychiatrist."

A veteran of 20 bombing missions in the European theater, Stewart stressed that a strong and efficient air force is essential to America's future security.

He served as a B-24 Liberator pilot in England with the Eighth Air Force. He entered the service in March, 1941, and went overseas in November, 1943. Stewart had 126 discharge points.

The handsome bachelor said emphatically that he had no plans to marry. Asked to compare English women with America's fairer sex, Stewart said evasively: "That's the $64 question."

The government ordered a curfew between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m. and all public gatherings have been forbidden.
